POLICE TOOK A MIDNIGHT JAUNT

A Tour of the River Potteries and River Front Was Made In Order

TO FIND ALL THE SLEEPERS

Search Was Rewarded by Two Victims Who Were In Murphy's Packing Shed.

MORRISON LOST SOME MONEY

There were about the usual number of drunks on the streets Saturday night and Sunday, but somehow the booze was not of the fighting kind, and the city was unusually quiet.

Officer Gill and Special Stafford were patrolling Fourth street when they came across Thomas Morrison, a section foreman, who was drunk. He was taken to jail and may do a turn on the streets. Morrison was ill all day Sunday, and in the evening Chief Thompson allowed him to go to his boarding house, where it was thought, he would rest easier.

Morrison came back to city hall last night and spent the night in jail. He says he was touched for $26 and a railroad ticket to Pittsburg. He says he was with two men at the depot and thinks that they probably made away with the cash. He says he knows one of the parties.

W. H. Schriver had a jag on this morning and was making himself obnoxious at the station. The patrol was called and Officer Wood conveyed him to the city jail.

Last night about midnight Chief Thompson decided to have a general cleaning up. He gathered his staff of officers about him, secured lanterns and the party then started out to make a tour of the river potteries and river fronts. The potteries were closely inspected and so were the willows. When the Murphy pottery was reached Joe Horner and James McCoy were found sleeping in the packing shed. They were taken to city hall and are now waiting for a hearing.

Reese and Farmer are all that are left of the street force and they will soon have discharged their obligation to the city.

They were turned out for a little exercise yesterday afternoon, and were gone all afternoon. They returned in time for supper.

A VISITOR.

Local Salvationists Will Have Adjutant Lee With Them Two Evenings This Week.

Adjutant Leigh, of Cleveland, who is traveling in the interest of the children, is coming to visit the local Salvation Army corps Thursday and Friday.

The Juniors will take a prominent part in the adjutant's meetings, and an interesting time is looked forward to by local Salvationists.

MINISTERS MET.

Some Preachers Were Not Present, And Still There is No Census Report.

The meeting of the ministers held at the Methodist Protestant church this morning was attended by Dr. Crawford, Dr. Taggart and Rev. Gorrill.

Owing to the absence of the other ministers no report could be given out. The ministers of the various churches in the city would like to state to the people not identified with any church that their doors are open, their seats are free and a cordial invitation is extended to them to attend the services.

THE TRUE STORY.

GEORGE GASTON, OF THIS CITY, WAS OVERCOME BY HEAT.

He Started Out With Dr. Mateer And Lost His Way, Returning to Wooster.

The story in regard to George Gaston, of this city, wandering away from the home of his son-in-law in Wooster has just been straightened out.

It seems that one morning Mr. Gaston, accompanied by his son-in-law, Dr. Mateer went to visit a patient a half-mile from Wooster. When they arrived at the house the physician found that he would have to go about four miles farther back and Mr. Gaston decided he would walk back to Wooster.

In going back he lost the road and after going several miles he entered a farm house, and with the words, "I am George Gaston, of East Liverpool," keeled over. His people, of course, were very anxious about him and started to search and succeeded in locating him in a short time. He remained unconscious for over 24 hours. It was a very warm day and the heat was too much for him. He will be brought home as soon as he is able to travel.

MRS. T. M. BENNETT SEVERELY INJURED

She Was Thrown from a Delivery Wagon Late Saturday Night.

Mrs. T. M. Bennett met with an accident Saturday night about 10 o'clock.

Will George, who drives the delivery wagon, had some orders to deliver on Grant street, but didn't know where the people lived. Mrs. Bennett said she would go with him and show him the houses. The goods were delivered and George started to turn around in Green lane, when the wagon commenced to slide and scared the horses. They started to run and upset the wagon, throwing both occupants out.

Mrs. Bennett was found to be severely injured. The ambulance was called and she was taken to her home on Washington street and Drs. Sloan and Laughlin were called.

An examination showed that Mrs. Bennett had suffered a dislocated shoulder, ligaments of the arm torn loose, left ribs broken and her forehead crushed. Her eyes are swelled so today that she is unable to see.

ADDITIONAL JURORS

Have Been Ordered to Report for Duty When Court Opens Tomorrow.

Lisbon, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The following additional jurors have been ordered to report for duty tomorrow when court opens at 10 o'clock:

Oliver Burford and John W. Hall, East Liverpool; John Ertzinger, Columbiana; John M. Johnson, Lisbon; William Joseph, Inverness.

INJURED IN A FOOTBALL GAME

Johnson Was Playing With a West End Team Against the Diamond Indians.

SHOULDER BLADE WAS BROKEN

Taken to a Physician Where the Fracture Was Reduced but He Will Not

PLAY AGAIN FOR SOME TIME

The second foot ball accident of the season in this city has been recorded, and this time the victim is Charles Johnson.

Johnson is a member of the West End eleven and was in the game Saturday against the Diamond Indians, Jr. He was playing a good game when he got into a skirmish. When play was called Johnson didn't get up and the players were not long in discovering that he was hurt.

He was taken to Dr. Rose Hathaway, where it was ascertained that his shoulder blade had been broken. The fracture was reduced at once.

The young man is resting as easily as could be expected today, but it will be some time before he again plays foot ball.

CONGREGATION DID NOT LIKE REV. M'KEE'S TALK

Some members of the Second Presbyterian church, of Wellsville, were very indignant over the remarks made by Rev. C. L. V. McKee in his speech in this city week before last.

They did not desire to stir up trouble in the church and therefore did not attend the divine services at their church, preferring to stay away.

The matter, however, became so general that yesterday afternoon a meeting of the trustees and session of the church was held and an informal talk was had; the pastor being absent. They adjourned to meet after church in the evening and at the same time they elected P. H. White chairman.

The pastor was present on this occasion and he was asked if he had made use of the language he was credited with on the occasion of his speech in this city.

He assumed an evasive attitude, claiming that the Wellsville Union had not quoted him correctly. He then said he didn't think the parties present had any jurisdiction, as it was not a legal meeting, as they had no moderator. He wanted to know at the meeting whether it was for war or for peace, and received the reply that it was for peace. They were unable at any time throughout the meeting to get a direct answer from the pastor, and J. A. Joseph finally asked him for an answer, and stated the evasion made him tired and picked up his hat and left the meeting.

Last July the pastor preached a sermon on expansion that did not meet with the views of his congregation, and his remarks in this city did not tend to pour oil on the troubled waters. How it will end no person knows.

Aged Resident Dead.

Lisbon, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—John Worman died at his home north of town at 1 o'clock after several years' illness. He was about 60 years of age and lived all his life on the farm where his death occurred.

USED A KNIFE.

NIP HAMILTON CUT JOHN AMMON IN THE ARM.

Complaint Was Entered in the Court of Squire McLane And Hamilton Was Fined.

Nip Hamilton and John Ammon had an altercation at Walker's on Saturday night and Hamilton cut Ammon on the arm with a pen knife. It was not a bad cut, but Ammon came to the city and entered a charge of assault in the court of Squire McLane. Constable Miller arrested Hamilton yesterday and he put up security for his appearance this morning.

When he arrived this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge, but upon his statement to the court he was let off with the minimum fine of $1 and costs.

SATURDAY EXCURSIONS.

Merchants and Manufacturers Protesting Against the Excursions On This Day.

The pencil shaver has been interviewed by quite a number of our prominent merchants today, and they universally protest against Saturday excursions, given under the jurisdiction of local lodges or organizations, and they state that the same complaint comes from a number of prominent manufacturers and pottery owners. They state that these Saturday excursions are an injustice to business interests of every character in East Liverpool, and that they believe that the members of the various lodges, lovers of fair play and justice, will admit this to be the truth when it is considered from all standpoints. Labor leaders have also been consulted respecting this matter, one prominent leader asserting that the labor organizations will look at the matter in the same light as the merchants.

WE LOST

The Monessen (Pa.) Foot Ball Eleven Was Too Heavy for the National Guard Team.

The National Guard foot ball eleven went to Monessen, Pa., on Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the local team by the score of 6 to 0.

The National Guard boys have reason to be proud of the stand they made against Monessen, as they were much lighter and only managed to keep the score down by scientific playing.

York and Heckathorne were hurt in the first half and had to retire, while Hester nurses a very sore shoulder.

A GRINDSTONE.

Clarence Farnsworth Dropped the Stone And it Severely Mashed His Foot.

Clarence Farnsworth, a driver for the Edwin M. Knowles company yesterday dropped a grindstone. Of course the stone struck his foot and it will be several days before his foot is in real good condition.

CUT HIS HEAD

W. H. Schriver Took a Header on the C. & P. Tracks This Morning.

W. H. Schriver, who was arrested at the station this morning, came near being seriously injured. Conductor Pat Duffy took him from the train and they both fell to the platform. He was placed on his feet and then staggered onto the track, cutting a gash in his head. He was then carried and put again the fence and the patrol called.

DIED AT BALTIMORE.

Sad News of the Death of Bernard Erlanger Reached Here Yesterday.

Word was received in the city yesterday afternoon of the death of Bernard Erlanger, father of Myer Erlanger, at Baltimore, from an operation.

He is a brother of William Erlanger, who left for that place last night. Myer Erlanger has been with his father since Wednesday.

ASSOCIATION GAME.

Rovers and Buckeyes Kicked the Foot Ball at Rock Springs Saturday Afternoon.

A very interesting practice game of foot ball was played Saturday between the Rovers and Buckeyes, two local clubs.

The Rovers proved altogether too strong for their opponents, and won the contest by a score of 5 to 0.

The National Social club will on Thursday evening hold a private dance at their rooms in the First National bank building.

The Monessen (Pa.) Foot Ball Eleven Was Too Heavy for the National Guard Team.

The National Guard foot ball eleven went to Monessen, Pa., on Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the local team by the score of 6 to 0.

The National Guard boys have reason to be proud of the stand they made against Monessen, as they were much lighter and only managed to keep the score down by scientific playing.

York and Heckathorne were hurt in the first half and had to retire, while Hester nurses a very sore shoulder.

CUT HIS HEAD

W. H. Schriver Took a Header on the C. & P. Tracks This Morning.

W. H. Schriver, who was arrested at the station this morning, came near being seriously injured. Conductor Pat Duffy took him from the train and they both fell to the platform. He was placed on his feet and then staggered onto the track, cutting a gash in his head. He was then carried and put again the fence and the patrol called.

BILL BRYAN'S OWN TRUST

He Bitterly Denounces Monopolies
Held By Any of Our Good Citizens.

BUT USES THE LAW FOR

The Protection of His Own Private
Book Trust and Makes a Fortune.

WHAT DOES THE MAN MEAN

Here is good reading for the fair and square voters of East Liverpool and Columbiana county, and for the country at large. William Jennings Bryan is a very peculiar combination and a very unsafe man to occupy any position of trust. He is certainly unfit to be the president of the United States, and we have resolved that he cannot have the berth.

In his speech before the Chicago conference on trusts, Sept. 16, 1899, William Jennings Bryan said:

"One trust magnate may be more benevolent than another, but there is no good monopoly in private hands, and I do not believe it is safe for any man or group of men to monopolize any article of merchandise, or any branch of industry."

Rather broad statement that. Mr. Bryan is much given to radical statements, but one would have thought he would have stopped short of denouncing any monopoly of "any article of merchandise."

It is over a year since Bryan made that speech denouncing each and every monopoly, but he is repeating the same doctrine today. Oct. 10 he asked in his speech at Nashville, Michigan:

"Do you know of any good monopoly in private hands? Do you know of any person good enough to stand at the head of any monopoly, and determine the price of that which others are to use?"

Well, there is a certain book known as "The First Battle," which is an article of merchandise, and an absolute monopoly in W. J. Bryan's hands. Quite an expensive one, indeed, to many poor men, who have felt that they must have it. On the reverse side of the title page of that interesting work we read:

Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1896, by William J. Bryan. In the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D. C. All rights reserved.

On the next page is a warning by the publishers against any "fraudulent imitations."

And there you are.

This is the absolute, law-protected monopoly which in four years has made William J. Bryan a rich man.

If it were not for Bryan's absolute monopoly of the book, farmers, workmen and the horny-handed sons of toll in general could have secured the work for one-third or even a quarter of what they have had to pay for it.

No honest man will deny Mr. Bryan's right to his book, or his privilege to make what he can out of it. It has always been the policy of this country to respect the rights of authors, and to give them a monopoly, or, as the law put it, "an exclusive right" to their works.

The wrong is that a man enjoying this special protection, and getting rich by making poor men pay a higher price than he could get under the free printing of his book—and free trading in it—should in his selfishness declare that other people shall enjoy no such privilege, but have every vestige of protection taken away from them.

A fine man that to set up as an instructor for the liberal hearted, protection favoring people of America! Would Bryan destroy all patents too? They are monopolies, one and all, like his copyright.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Local Branch of the W. F. M. Society of the M. E. Church Returns Thanks.

The local branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church desires to return thanks to any and every person who in any way or manner assisted in making the late convention, held in the First M. E. church of East Liverpool, such a complete and gratifying success. Great good was surely accomplished at this convention, and the workers in the society have been given fresh courage for the work yet to be done in the vineyard of the Master. Our heavenly Father will reward His workers in due time. We take pleasure in returning warm thanks to the management of the Bell Telephone company for their kindness in furnishing the convention with splendid service, free of charge. This service aided our members in their work very materially.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. Charles G. Jordan Preached to Two Very Large Audiences.

The services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday were very largely attended. The pastor, Rev. C. G. Jordan, in the morning delivered a masterly sermon on "Paul's Theme." In the evening the edifice was packed. He took for his subject, "The Hidden Talent."

Before the sermon he uttered a very fervent prayer that war might cease in the world. He took for his text Matt. 25, 28-30.

He opened his sermon by stating that no person knew where heaven was, the conditions of it or who would be there. He spoke of the five, two and one talent men and said it was the duty of every one to add mentally, spiritually and materially to the talent God had given them. He spoke of the fact that all could not be five talent men and said if Grant had not had back of him 100,000 one and two talent men the union would never have been saved. He urged all with little gifts to plunge into the fight and do something, and said if the talent God had given was not used in the proper way it would soon pass out of the grip. He said the getting of money was the duty of every person, as a man, as a citizen, as money was the greatest power the church had. He said it could be misused, but so could everything else. He spoke of how Ingersoll misused his eloquence and oratory. He then said money was the greatest thing in the hands of the church, as it was back of the school houses, the teachers and the pupils. The more a man had the more he could give, and he spoke of how badly money was needed to carry on the mission work, both in this country and abroad.

He spoke of ambition and said it was a good thing. He compared Spurgeon and Napoleon and said the ambition of Spurgeon was to convert the world for righteousness, but that his ambition caused no bleeding hearts.

He closed his sermon with an earnest appeal that all would use the talent God had given them.

John R. Stoddard, assisted by the choir, rendered a very pretty selection.

AN ORDINANCE to improve Rural Lane from Jackson Street to the west line of Lot No. 504

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, as follows:

SECTION 1. That the improvement from Rural Lane to the west line of lot No. 504 be proceeded with in accordance with the Resolution to improve the said alley, passed the 20th day of August, A. D. 1900, and the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Engineer and under his supervision and instructions, doing all necessary grading and paving with the best quality of paving bricks set on edge.

SECTION 2. That the cost and expense of the said improvement, except so much thereof as the law requires to be placed on the general tax list, shall be levied and assessed on the lots and land abutting and bounding on the said alley, between the points above named, in accordance with the law and ordinance on the subject of assessments; the assessments therefor will be collected in five annual installments if deferred, and the same collected as provided by law and in the assessing ordinance hereafter to be passed. Bonds will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the said assessments unless the property owners pay their assessments before the bonds are issued and within the time prescribed in the assessing ordinance. The following property will be assessed for the cost and expense of the said improvement: Lot No. 2671; lot No. 2672; lot No. 2673; lot No. 2674; lot No. 2675; lot No. 2676; lot No. 2677; lot No. 2678; lot No. 2679; lot No. 2680; lot No. 2681; lot No. 433; lot No. 2686; lot No. 2685; lot No. 2694; lot No. 2693; lot No. 2692; lot No. 2691; lot No. 2690; lot No. 2689; lot No. 2688; lot No. 2687; lot No. 504.

SECTION 3. That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and legal publication.

The local branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church desires to return thanks to any and every person who in any way or manner assisted in making the late convention, held in the First M. E. church of East Liverpool, such a complete and gratifying success. Great good was surely accomplished at this convention, and the workers in the society have been given fresh courage for the work yet to be done in the vineyard of the Master. Our heavenly Father will reward His workers in due time. We take pleasure in returning warm thanks to the management of the Bell Telephone company for their kindness in furnishing the convention with splendid service, free of charge. This service aided our members in their work very materially.

Respectfully,

MRS. WM. WELSH,
President.

The reserved seat chart for the High School Star lecture course will not be opened until Thursday, Oct. 18, at 4 o'clock.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. Charles G. Jordan Preached to Two Very Large Audiences.

The services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday were very largely attended. The pastor, Rev. C. G. Jordan, in the morning delivered a masterly sermon on "Paul's Theme." In the evening the edifice was packed. He took for his subject, "The Hidden Talent."

Before the sermon he uttered a very fervent prayer that war might cease in the world. He took for his text Matt. 25, 28-30.

He opened his sermon by stating that no person knew where heaven was, the conditions of it or who would be there. He spoke of the five, two and one talent men and said it was the duty of every one to add mentally, spiritually and materially to the talent God had given them. He spoke of the fact that all could not be five talent men and said if Grant had not had back of him 100,000 one and two talent men the union would never have been saved. He urged all with little gifts to plunge into the fight and do something, and said if the talent God had given was not used in the proper way it would soon pass out of the grip. He said the getting of money was the duty of every person, as a man, as a citizen, as money was the greatest power the church had. He said it could be misused, but so could everything else. He spoke of how Ingersoll misused his eloquence and oratory. He then said money was the greatest thing in the hands of the church, as it was back of the school houses, the teachers and the pupils. The more a man had the more he could give, and he spoke of how badly money was needed to carry on the mission work, both in this country and abroad.

He spoke of ambition and said it was a good thing. He compared Spurgeon and Napoleon and said the ambition of Spurgeon was to convert the world for righteousness, but that his ambition caused no bleeding hearts.

He closed his sermon with an earnest appeal that all would use the talent God had given them.

John R. Stoddard, assisted by the choir, rendered a very pretty selection.

CRIME OF THE CENTURY

The Nation Must Destroy It or It Will Destroy the Nation.

BURNING, ELOQUENT WORDS

East Liverpool lovers of clean life and haters of the liquor traffic, men and women who have resolved to devote your life to the downfall of "the crime of the century," read the following burning words of Robert Ingersoll. They are words of truth and should be treasured up in your mind:

"I am aware that there is a prejudice against any man in the manufacture of alcohol. I believe that from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm in the distillery until it empties into the hell of death, dishonor and crime, it demoralizes everybody that touches it, from its source to where it ends. I do not believe anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against the liquor crime.

"All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the wrecks on either bank of the stream of death; of the suicides, of the insanity, of the poverty, of the ignorance, of the destruction, of the little children tugging at the faded, weary breasts of weeping and despairing wives, asking for bread, of the talented men of genius it has wrecked, the men struggling with imaginary serpents, produced by this devilish thing; and when you think of the jails, the alms houses, of the asylums, of the prisons, of the scaffolds upon either bank, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against this stuff called alcohol.

"Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength, and old age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart, bereaves the doting mother, extinguishes natural affections, erases conjugal loves, blots out filial attachments, blights parental hope, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sickness, not health; death, not life. It makes wives widows, children orphans, fathers fiends, and all of them paupers and beggars.

"It feeds rheumatism, nurses gout, welcomes epidemics, invites cholera, imports pestilence, and embraces consumption. It covers the land with idleness, misery and crime. It fills your jails, supplies your alms houses and demands your asylums. It engenders controversies, fosters quarrels and cherishes riots. It crowds your penitentiaries and furnishes victims to your scaffolds. It is the life blood of the gambler, the element of the burglar, the property of the highwayman, and the support of the midnight incendiary. It countenances the liar, respects the thief, esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligations, reverences fraud and honors infamy. It defames benevolence, hates love, scorns virtue and slanders innocence. It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring, helps the husband massacre his wife, and the child to grind the paricidal axe.

"It burns up men, consumes women, detests life, curses God and despises heaven. It suborns witnesses, nurses perjury, defiles the jury box and stains the judicial ermine. It degrades the citizen, debases the legislator, dishonors statesmen and disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; and with the malevolence of a fiend, it calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and, unsatisfied with its havoc, it poisons felicity, kills peace, ruins morals, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honors, then curses the world and laughs at its ruin.

"It does all that and more—it murders the soul. It is the son of villainies, the father of all crimes, the mother of abomination, the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy.

DEADLY CIGARETTES.

A Famous Educator Tells How the Fool Boys Are Killed Off.

And we have a number of this same class of youngsters in East Liverpool, boys scarcely out of baby clothes, who will puff cigarette smoke in your face and imagine they will soon be men. And these foolish little boys are encouraged by boys of larger growth, coming up into young manhood, and who are about as near gone to the bad as is the rum soaked drunkard. Read what this prominent educator says about boys who have formed the cigarette habit:

David Starr Jordan, president of one of the wealthiest universities on the continent is also one of the leading scientists of this country. He says that boys who have formed the cigarette habit are like like wormy apples—they drop long before the harvest time. They rarely make failures in after life, because they do not have any after life. The boy who begins smoking cigarettes before his fifteenth year never enters the life of the world. When other boys are taking hold of the world's work he is concerned with the sexton and the undertaker.

HE WAS DRUNK.

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Disgusted Pedestrians With His Actions Saturday Night.

One of the notable occurrences witnessed Saturday night was that of a boy not more than 16 years of age, who was so drunk on Sixth street that he could scarcely walk. He first made his appearance at about 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost midnight disgusted the passers-by with his unnatural profanity and vile talk. At a late hour some of his friends, who had been notified of his actions, took him home.

An effort should be made to find where the boy got his liquor and the saloon keeper that sold it to him should suffer to the full extent of the law.

DIPHTHERIA.

A Case Was Reported to the Health Authorities Saturday Night.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn, of Third street, is afflicted with diphtheria. The little one had been ill for several days and on Saturday night Dr. Hobbs, the attending physician, pronounced the affliction diphtheria. The health authorities were at once notified, and Officer Burgess placed the quarantine.

The family had a number of boarders, who were compelled to look up other quarters in a hurry.

A BIG SCORE.

Junior Diamond Indians Defeated the West End Beauts Saturday Afternoon.

The aggregation of juvenile foot ball players known as the Diamond Indians, Jr., defeated the West End Beauts on Brunt's Saturday afternoon by a score of 24 to 6.

The feature of the game was the team work of the juniors, none of whom weigh more than 105 pounds. Their opponents averaged several pounds heavier, but lacked the coach.

It crowds your penitentiaries and furnishes victims to your scaffolds. It is the life blood of the gambler, the element of the burglar, the property of the highwayman, and the support of the midnight incendiary. It countenances the liar, respects the thief, esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligations, reverences fraud and honors infamy. It defames benevolence, hates love, scorns virtue and slanders innocence. It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring, helps the husband massacre his wife, and the child to grind the patrician's axle.

"It burns up men, consumes women, detests life, curses God and despises heaven. It suborns witnesses, nurses perjury, defiles the jury box and stains the judicial ermine. It degrades the citizen, debases the legislator, dishonors statesmen and disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; and with the malevolence of a fiend, it calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and, unsatisfied with its havoc, it poisons felicity, kills peace, ruins morals, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honors, then curses the world and laughs at its ruin.

"It does all that and more—it murders the soul. It is the son of villainies, the father of all crimes, the mother of abomination, the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy.

DEADLY CIGARETTES.

A Famous Educator Tells How the Fool Boys Are Killed Off.

And we have a number of this same class of youngsters in East Liverpool, boys scarcely out of baby clothes, who will puff cigarette smoke in your face and imagine they will soon be men. And these foolish little boys are encouraged by boys of larger growth, coming up into young manhood, and who are about as near gone to the bad as is the rum soaked drunkard. Read what this prominent educator says about boys who have formed the cigarette habit:

David Starr Jordan, president of one of the wealthiest universities on the continent is also one of the leading scientists of this country. He says that boys who have formed the cigarette habit are like like wormy apples—they drop long before the harvest time. They rarely make failures in after life, because they do not have any after life. The boy who begins smoking cigarettes before his fifteenth year never enters the life of the world. When other boys are taking hold of the world's work he is concerned with the sexton and the undertaker.

HE WAS DRUNK.

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Disgusted Pedestrians With His Actions Saturday Night.

One of the notable occurrences witnessed Saturday night was that of a boy not more than 16 years of age, who was so drunk on Sixth street that he could scarcely walk. He first made his appearance at about 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost midnight disgusted the passers-by with his unnatural profanity and vile talk. At a late hour some of his friends, who had been notified of his actions, took him home.

An effort should be made to find where the boy got his liquor and the saloon keeper that sold it to him should suffer to the full extent of the law.

DIPHTHERIA.

A Case Was Reported to the Health Authorities Saturday Night.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn, of Third street, is afflicted with diphtheria. The little one had been ill for several days and on Saturday night Dr. Hobbs, the attending physician, pronounced the affliction diphtheria. The health authorities were at once notified, and Officer Burgess placed the quarantine.

The family had a number of boarders, who were compelled to look up other quarters in a hurry.

A BIG SCORE.

Junior Diamond Indians Defeated the West End Beasts Saturday Afternoon.

The aggregation of juvenile football players known as the Diamond Indians, Jr., defeated the West End Beasts on Brunt's Saturday afternoon by a score of 24 to 6.

The feature of the game was the team work of the juniors, none of whom weigh more than 105 pounds. Their opponents averaged several pounds heavier, but lacked the coach.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

BRYAN'S OWN TRUST.

Read article very carefully in another column under head of "Bill Bryan's Own Trust." It shows the absolute inconsistency of Bryan's cry against all trust and all monopolies. Is William Jennings Bryan worthy of the trust of any voter under such circumstances? Out of his own mouth he condemns himself. Read the article.

FREE SILVER.

China is a free silver country. Millions of her population live in boats and subsist upon such diet as rats, rice and fish. Bryan would like the American mechanics and workman to follow suit; but the American masses are not built after the fashion of the Chinese. Our boys think and act for themselves and vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, good wages, good times and the gold basis.

BISHOP THOBURN.

Bishop Thoburn, a strong and true man, advocating that only which he believes to be right, as leaders of Methodism well know, is an earnest advocate of the retention of the Philippine islands by the United States, not only as a good feature for the United States, but as a grand feature for the Filipinos. And Bishop Thoburn knows what he is talking about, as he has personally visited the islands and made them a study.

THE BLACK MAN.

The south has already disfranchised, as far as it can legally do so, the black men of that section. Cockran and other prominent Democrats in New York and other northern states favor the repeal of the fifteenth amendment. Democracy stands out boldly against the black man and his rights, and has always done so. The Republican party, from Lincoln down, has been the black man's friend. McKinley has stood by the colored race nobly. Roosevelt praises the black man and terms him a gallant and brave soldier. Teddy says: "The Afro-American soldier has the faculty of coming to the front when he is needed most." Read the article in another column headed "Our Black Men."

THE SALOON.

Are you doing your duty against the saloons of East Liverpool? Do you believe your business, as conducted by you, is aiding and assisting in the maintenance and life of the saloon in this municipality? Are you helping the saloon in any manner, directly or indirectly? Be honest in your verdict. Don't hedge. Don't dodge the issue. Don't be cowardly. Face the music. Don't beat about the bush and talk about the army canteen. The "canteen" sells nothing but beer and light wines. The saloon sells anything and everything which will intoxicate. You can drive the saloon out of East Liverpool if you will. You have no army canteen here. You have the saloon. Is it a blessing or a curse? If a blessing, then sustain and culture and protect it. If a curse, then drive it out. No sane man desires to be cursed. The saloon power in East Liverpool is a peculiar bogie, fashioned after the manner and on the principle of the Chinese dragon; an awful thing to look upon; a hideous monster; a fearful thing; an ugly creation; something which you fear to attack; something which endeavors to create the impression that it will annihilate you and wipe you out of existence if you madden it or interfere with it in any manner; but which, like the dragon, ceases to be a terror when you face it boldly and courageously, and which sneaks away into the shadow of its own evil self when the day of stern battle opens. Face the monster boldly, true men and women of East Liverpool. Face the saloon devil and bid him open defiance. Face the devil, in the name of God and our common humanity, and victory will surely perch upon your banners. The saloon dragon has twice insulted the decent citizens of late; first in the farce called an election, which every man of common sense knows did not express the will of the majority of the voters in this city; and secondly in the "Brewery Parade," adding insult to injury. Don't let the dragon add the third insult. Let us prepare for him aright, and the next time he dares to make his hideous presence known, let us be past masters in political dentistry, pull the monster's teeth and extract his venomous sting. And may our God speed the day of the death of the saloon dragon in this great nation.

OUR BRAVE BLACK MEN

Teddy Roosevelt Lauds the Gallant
 Afro-American Soldiers of the Nation.

THEY ARE GRAND FIGHTERS

Democratic Falsifiers and Stay-At-
 Homes Trying to Malign
 "Our Teddy."

OWES HIS LIFE TO BLACK MEN

Governor Theodore Roosevelt has explained to a reporter his reported antipathy to the Afro-American soldier. In Scribner's Magazine for April, 1899, there appeared an article by Mr. Roosevelt, which the Democrats assert reflected upon the bravery of the Afro-American soldier. This article has been used as a campaign document and has been widely circulated among the Afro-American people of the country. "The Democrats have attempted to make a mountain out of a mole hill," said Governor Roosevelt. "In the article referred to I made mention of an incident:

Case of a Captain's Order.

"I had orders to hold a certain position and was supported by the Tenth cavalry (Afro-American.) The position was uncertain and we needed every man available to make the stand. Two or three of the Afro-American soldiers started to the rear in search of water, as ordered by their captain. I rebuked the captain for lessening our force, and commanded the men to remain. The statement I made after that, so near as I can remember, was: 'I have orders to hold this hill, and I intend to do it. I will shoot any man that gives up this position.'

"This is the whole story in a nutshell, and the efforts of the Democrats to make political capital out of the simple incident shows what small campaign methods they are capable of using.

Praises Black Men's Bravery.

"My position with the Afro-American people is too well known for these political tricksters to undermine it. I would be the last man in the world to say anything against the Afro-American soldier, because I know of his bravery and his character. He saved my life at Santiago, and I have had occasion to say so in many articles and speeches. The Rough Riders were in a bad position when the Ninth and Tenth cavalry came rushing up the hill, carrying everything before them.

"The Afro-American soldier has the faculty of coming to the front when he is needed most. In the civil war he came 400,000 strong, and I believe he saved the union. He has done excellent work in all of the Indian campaigns, and while I was in the west I had a number of opportunities of witnessing his wonderful work. He saved a massacre of the Seventh in 1890.

Their Help at San Juan Hill.

At San Juan hill the Afro-American soldiers rendered an object lesson to all of the soldiers assembled there. They sung and fought and pushed the laggard troopers up the hill and the great victory at that point was theirs as much if not more than any of the soldiers there.

"The Afro-American man can vote for whom he pleases. He can follow the dictates of his own conscience. That is why he has the franchise, to exercise it, and use it for his best advantage and the advantage of his country, which he has served so honorably with his sword, but I take great pleasure in saying that he is a first-class fighting man."

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

BRYAN'S OWN TRUST.

Read article very carefully in another column under head of "Bill Bryan's Own Trust." It shows the absolute inconsistency of Bryan's cry against all trust and all monopolies. Is William Jennings Bryan worthy of the trust of any voter under such circumstances? Out of his own mouth he condemns himself. Read the article.

FREE SILVER.

China is a free silver country. Millions of her population live in boats and subsist upon such diet as rats, rice and fish. Bryan would like the American mechanics and workman to follow suit; but the American masses are not built after the fashion of the Chinese. Our boys think and act for themselves and vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, good wages, good times and the gold basis.

BISHOP THOBURN.

Bishop Thoburn, a strong and true man, advocating that only which he believes to be right, as leaders of Methodism well know, is an earnest advocate of the retention of the Philippine islands by the United States, not only as a good feature for the United States, but as a grand feature for the Filipinos. And Bishop Thoburn knows what he is talking about, as he has personally visited the islands and made them a study.

THE BLACK MAN.

The south has already disfranchised, as far as it can legally do so, the black men of that section. Cockran and other prominent Democrats in New York and other northern states favor the repeal of the fifteenth amendment. Democracy stands out boldly against the black man and his rights, and has always done so. The Republican party, from Lincoln down, has been the black man's friend. McKinley has stood by the colored race nobly. Roosevelt praises the black man and terms him a gallant and brave soldier. Teddy says: "The Afro-American soldier has the faculty of coming to the front when he is needed most." Read the article in another column headed "Our Black Men."

THE SALOON.

Are you doing your duty against the saloons of East Liverpool? Do you believe your business, as conducted by you, is aiding and assisting in the maintenance and life of the saloon in this municipality? Are you helping the saloon in any manner, directly or indirectly? Be honest in your verdict. Don't hedge. Don't dodge the issue. Don't be cowardly. Face the music. Don't beat about the bush and talk about the army canteen. The "canteen" sells nothing but beer and light wines. The saloon sells anything and everything which will intoxicate. You can drive the saloon out of East Liverpool if you will. You have no army canteen here. You have the saloon. Is it a blessing or a curse? If a blessing, then sustain and culture and protect it. If a curse, then drive it out. No sane man desires to be cursed. The saloon power in East Liverpool is a peculiar bogie, fashioned after the manner and on the principle of the Chinese dragon; an awful thing to look upon; a hideous monster; a fearful thing; an ugly creation; something which you fear to attack; something which endeavors to create the impression that it will annihilate you and wipe you out of existence if you madden it or interfere with it in any manner; but which, like the dragon, ceases to be a terror when you face it boldly and courageously, and which sneaks away into the shadow of its own evil self when the day of stern battle opens. Face the monster boldly, true men and women of East Liverpool. Face the saloon devil and bid him open defiance. Face the devil, in the name of God and our common humanity, and victory will surely perch upon your banners. The saloon dragon has twice insulted the decent citizens of late; first in the farce called an election, which every man of common sense knows did not express the will of the majority of the voters in this city; and secondly in the "Brewery Parade," adding insult to injury. Don't let the dragon add the third insult. Let us prepare for him aright, and the next time he dares to make his hideous presence known, let us be past masters in political dentistry, pull the monster's teeth and extract his venomous sting. And may our God speed the day of the death of the saloon dragon in this great nation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hill and Mrs. Jacob Hill and daughter, of Canal Dover, spent the day in Pittsburgh.

OUR BRAVE BLACK MEN

Teddy Roosevelt Lauds the Gallant
 Afro-American Soldiers of the Nation.

THEY ARE GRAND FIGHTERS

Democratic Falsifiers and Stay-At-
 Homes Trying to Malign
 "Our Teddy."

OWES HIS LIFE TO BLACK MEN

Governor Theodore Roosevelt has explained to a reporter his reported antipathy to the Afro-American soldier. In Scribner's Magazine for April, 1899, there appeared an article by Mr. Roosevelt, which the Democrats assert reflected upon the bravery of the Afro-American soldier. This article has been used as a campaign document and has been widely circulated among the Afro-American people of the country. "The Democrats have attempted to make a mountain out of a mole hill," said Governor Roosevelt. "In the article referred to I made mention of an incident:

Case of a Captain's Order.

"I had orders to hold a certain position and was supported by the Tenth cavalry (Afro-American.) The position was uncertain and we needed every man available to make the stand. Two or three of the Afro-American soldiers started to the rear in search of water, as ordered by their captain. I rebuked the captain for lessening our force, and commanded the men to remain. The statement I made after that, so near as I can remember, was: 'I have orders to hold this hill, and I intend to do it. I will shoot any man that gives up this position.'"

"This is the whole story in a nutshell, and the efforts of the Democrats to make political capital out of the simple incident shows what small campaign methods they are capable of using.

Praises Black Men's Bravery.

"My position with the Afro-American people is too well known for these political tricksters to undermine it. I would be the last man in the world to say anything against the Afro-American soldier, because I know of his bravery and his character. He saved my life at Santiago, and I have had occasion to say so in many articles and speeches. The Rough Riders were in a bad position when the Ninth and Tenth cavalry came rushing up the hill, carrying everything before them.

"The Afro-American soldier has the faculty of coming to the front when he is needed most. In the civil war he came 400,000 strong, and I believe he saved the union. He has done excellent work in all of the Indian campaigns, and while I was in the west I had a number of opportunities of witnessing his wonderful work. He saved a massacre of the Seventh in 1890.

Their Help at San Juan Hill.

At San Juan hill the Afro-American soldiers rendered an object lesson to all of the soldiers assembled there. They sung and fought and pushed the lagging troopers up the hill and the great victory at that point was theirs as much if not more than any of the soldiers there.

"The Afro-American man can vote for whom he pleases. He can follow the dictates of his own conscience. That is why he has the franchise, to exercise it, and use it for his best advantage and the advantage of his country, which he has served so honorably with his sword, but I take great pleasure in saying that he is a first-class fighting man."

As stated in these columns several months ago the Laughlin China company will double the capacity of their No. 2 plant and will erect eight new kilns at the northeast end of the present pottery.

The contract has been awarded to Harvey McHenry.

THE KNIFE SLIPPED

Fireman Terrence Cut a Bad Gash in His Big Toe While Cutting Cababges.

Fireman Terrence was cutting cababges in the lot adjoining the fire station last Saturday, when he struck an extra tough one and his penknife slipped and struck his left foot right at the joint of the big toe. He did not pay much attention to the wound until several hours later and today he walks with difficulty.

A HORNETS' NEST.

Reed McClure Stirred One Up And Immediately Got Himself Into Trouble.

Reed McClure, of Dixonville, went up into his hay mow yesterday, and while there stirred up a hornets' nest. The hornets seemed to all settle on his upper lip, and when he succeeded in getting away his face closely resembled a patent bucket.

NO BOYS

An East End Jiggerman is Compelled to Resign And Go to Batting Out.

There is a scarcity of boys in East End and a jiggerman who has enough boys to do his work is exceedingly fortunate. James Clifford is a jiggerman at the East End pottery, and owing to the fact that he could not get boys he was compelled to resign his position and accept one at batting out.

A new line of Potters' Sponges just received at East End Pharmacy.

East End Notes.

The Pennsylvania squirrel and bird law came in today and a large number of East End hunters took to the woods this morning. George Snowden is among the number.

James Dorff has returned to his work as a jiggerman at the Klondike after an illness of several weeks.

The clay shops of the Klondike were idle Saturday afternoon on account of the Pittsburg excursion.

The little Lawson girl that was struck by a street car Saturday, is now on a fair way to recovery, as no blood clots have formed.

George Bebee, who had his shoulder dislocated in an accident at the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery about ten weeks ago, is still unable to go to work.

The Nelson building that is being removed from one lot to another, has been in the hands of three contractors, and the third contractor began work this morning. The building is in such a dilapidated condition that it is a hard thing to move.

Mr. and Mrs. William Humes visited East End friends over Sunday. Mr. Humes returned to Sebring this morning, but his wife will remain one week.

W. C. Thompson, who conducted a dairy in East End for more than 15 years, has gone out of business.

SOUTH SIDE.

THE PLAINTIFF WON.

A Jury Heard the Case of Goppert Versus Goppert This Morning.

The case of Mrs. Adam Goppert versus her mother-in-law, which was brought to recover possession of a quantity of household furniture, was tried before a jury this morning in the court of Squire Johnson.

The jury was composed of Silas Hobbs, Alex Allison, Thompson Allison, James Schooler, Aaron Allison, Henry Logan, and the case was given to them at 11:40. They were just 20 minutes in arriving at a decision, which was in favor of the plaintiff.

Attorney F. E. Grosshans, attorney for defense, gave notice of appeal.

NOT A SUCCESS.

Pug Mill, Wad Mill and Sifter at the Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery Not Satisfactory.

Some of the new machinery placed in the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery is not proving a success and it is very likely it will have to be taken out. The machinery is the invention of Crossley, of Trenton, and was placed in position by him. The sifter, pug mill and wad mill have never worked satisfactory and it is only a question of a short time until they are removed and the old, tried machinery installed in place.

Jessie May Williams.

The 14-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, who reside on the Fairview road, died yesterday from cholera infantum. Funeral services were conducted at the home this morning, and at noon the body was taken to Wirt county, W. V., for interment.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END.

NEW MEMBERS

Fourteen Persons United With the Second Presbyterian Church Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday morning communion services were engaged at the Second Presbyterian church and 14 new members were received into the fellowship of the church.

The morning and evening services were very largely attended and were interesting.

At the Christian Endeavor meeting Prof. Rayman delivered an instructive and interesting address.

The church has been beautified by two every elegant chandeliers, which were placed in position on Saturday.

WANTED TO FIGHT.

Two East End Young Men Made a Display of Themselves in a Street Car.

Two East End young men, who were under the influence of liquor, had some words on a street car Saturday night, and when they got almost home they got off the car for the purpose of settling their differences. The friends of the young men succeeded in getting the matter settled without any blows being struck.

EIGHT NEW KILNS

The Capacity of the Laughlin No. 2 Pottery Will Just be Doubled.

As stated in these columns several months ago the Laughlin China company will double the capacity of their No. 2 plant and will erect eight new kilns at the northeast end of the present pottery.

The contract has been awarded to Harvey McHenry.

THE KNIFE SLIPPED

Fireman Terrence Cut a Bad Gash in His Big Toe While Cutting Cababges.

Fireman Terrence was cutting cababges in the lot adjoining the fire station last Saturday, when he struck an extra tough one and his penknife slipped and struck his left foot right at the joint of the big toe. He did not pay much attention to the wound until several hours later and today he walks with difficulty.

A HORNETS' NEST.

Reed McClure Stirred One Up And Immediately Got Himself Into Trouble.

Reed McClure, of Dixonville, went up into his hay mow yesterday, and while there stirred up a hornets' nest. The hornets seemed to all settle on his upper lip, and when he succeeded in getting away his face closely resembled a patent bucket.

NO BOYS

An East End Jiggerman is Compelled to Resign And Go to Batting Out.

There is a scarcity of boys in East End and a jiggerman who has enough boys to do his work is exceedingly fortunate. James Clifford is a jiggerman at the East End pottery, and owing to the fact that he could not get boys he was compelled to resign his position and accept one at batting out.

A new line of Potters' Sponges just received at East End Pharmacy.

East End Notes.

The Pennsylvania squirrel and bird law came in today and a large number of East End hunters took to the woods this morning. George Snowden is among the number.

James Dorff has returned to his work as a jiggerman at the Klondike after an illness of several weeks.

The clay shops of the Klondike were idle Saturday afternoon on account of the Pittsburg excursion.

The little Lawson girl that was struck by a street car Saturday, is now on a fair way to recovery, as no blood clots have formed.

George Bebee, who had his shoulder dislocated in an accident at the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery about ten weeks ago, is still unable to go to work.

The Nelson building that is being removed from one lot to another, has been in the hands of three contractors, and the third contractor began work this morning. The building is in such a dilapidated condition that it is a hard thing to move.

Mr. and Mrs. William Humes visited East End friends over Sunday. Mr. Humes returned to Sebring this morning, but his wife will remain one week.

W. C. Thompson, who conducted a dairy in East End for more than 15 years, has gone out of business.

SOUTH SIDE.

THE PLAINTIFF WON.

A Jury Heard the Case of Goppert Versus Goppert This Morning.

The case of Mrs. Adam Goppert versus her mother-in-law, which was brought to recover possession of a quantity of household furniture, was tried before a jury this morning in the court of Squire Johnson.

The jury was composed of Silas Hobbs, Alex Allison, Thompson Allison, James Schooler, Aaron Allison, Henry Logan, and the case was given to them at 11:40. They were just 20 minutes in arriving at a decision, which was in favor of the plaintiff.

Attorney F. E. Grosshans, attorney for defense, gave notice of appeal.

NOT A SUCCESS.

Pug Mill, Wad Mill and Sifter at the Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery Not Satisfactory.

Some of the new machinery placed in the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery is not proving a success and it is very likely it will have to be taken out. The machinery is the invention of Crossley, of Trenton, and was placed in position by him. The sifter, pug mill and wad mill have never worked satisfactory and it is only a question of a short time until they are removed and the old, tried machinery installed in place.

Jessie May Williams.

The 14-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, who reside on the Fairview road, died yesterday from cholera infantum. Funeral services were conducted at the home this morning, and at noon the body was taken to Wirt county, W. V., for interment.

The New Pastor Here.

Rev. Carnahan arrived in Chester Saturday. He is the new pastor of the Methodist church here, and will have charge of the Chester-Georgetown circuit in the future.

Remodeling the Building.

The proprietors of the Chester grocery are remodeling their store in order that it be made more comfortable during the winter season.

Secured Contracts.

Willis Kinsey, the plumber, who resides on Indiana avenue, has been given the contract for fitting up both potteries in Chester.

A Contractor in Chester.

Contractor Brown, whose firm has the contract for all the street paving in the upper part of Chester, was in town today.

A New Employee.

Paul McDowell, of Carrollton, arrived in Chester today and will be employed on the street improvements.

Will Put in Gas.

The Thompson building will be piped this week for the purpose of putting in gas.

MAY CONFER TODAY.

Rumored Railroad Officials Will Consider Miners' Action.

OPERATORS MAY AWAIT DECISION.

This Believed to Account For Reticence of Individual Mine Owners at Hazleton—Wyoming, Scranton and Mt. Carmel Operators Opposed to Miners' Stand.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The individual coal operators who could be seen here declined to discuss the action taken by the anthracite miners' convention at Scranton, neither would they say what steps the employers would probably take.

It is believed from their reticence that the individual mine owners are waiting to see what the large coal-carrying roads that mine coal will do. It was said in the coal region last night that the presidents of these roads will hold a conference in New York today for discussion of the action of the convention.

There was a story afloat that the operators will accept the convention's decision, but nothing has come to the surface in this region on which to base the report.

The United Mine Workers' officials say they are now again awaiting on the operators and that they will continue to close up the collieries that have been in operation since the strike began four weeks ago. There are many reports in circulation that if the strike continues much longer a break in the ranks of the idle men will occur.

President Mitchell and his associate officials, however, reassert their confidence that the men, both union and non-union, will remain away from the mines until after the strike is declared off. There is a fear prevalent in this region that if some of the men do return to work trouble would probably arise through the efforts of the strikers to persuade the men to remain on strike. All the collieries that are working still remain heavily guarded.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 15.—A canvass of the operators of the Wyoming valley shows that there is considerable opposition to granting the miners any more concessions than those outlined in the original offer, namely, 10 per cent increase without any conditions. The individual operators especially are opposed to tying themselves up to any agreement. One operator said the only way the strike can be settled is for the strikers to accept the 10 per cent without any provisions.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 15.—The terms of the Scranton convention are not acceptable to the operators and representatives of the coal-carrying companies in this place and Mt. Carmel. The Reading officials do not think the sliding scale will be abolished by the company, while operators are averse to signing a contract binding them to pay the 10 per cent in crease until April.

No orders have been received as yet from headquarters of any company to resume work today. Miners say they will not go to work until officially advised by President Mitchell.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The anthracite coal miners decided to accept the 10 per cent increase in wages offered by the mine owners, provided they will continue the payment of the advance until next April, and will abolish the sliding scale. If the operators consider the proposition unacceptable the miners are willing to arbitrate the question at issue. They also decided to continue the strike until the operators agree to the proposition.

OPERATORS CAN'T AGREE.

One of Them Said It Was Impossible. Declared Leaders Had Better

Declare Strike Off.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—In response to a request as to his views on the answer of the United Mine Workers to the operators' proposition, T. H. Watkins, president of the Temple Iron company, gave out a statement, saying in part:

"We will give our men reasonable time to return to work, trusting that they will see the mistake of being guided and influenced by men who, however honest and sincere they may be in their efforts to benefit the miners of the anthracite region, are unable to advise them intelligently and for their best good, because of their ignorance of the conditions controlling the trade.

"Mr. Mitchell apparently thinks that the control of mining operations rests in the hands of one or two persons, notably Mr. Morgan, or that there is a trust of some sort, which can decide the whole question, when as a matter of fact, there are only three or four of the transportation companies in which any one concern has any influence, and they do not represent 30 per cent of the whole anthracite tonnage. More than 100 different companies and individuals are interested in mining the total tonnage, and no one man can control or have the slightest influence over their action.

"The one thing the companies are apparently agreed upon and that is that they will not agree. Efforts have been made for years to get some plan to which all can agree to control the tonnage, so that fair prices can be secured for a product which requires so large an investment of money with such a great risk to the labor employed as well as the capital employed but effort after effort has failed through failure to agree on a plan that would not violate the laws and to which all would agree.

"But Mr. Mitchell comes here and says in effect, 'No matter how well you may treat your employees or how much you pay them or what agreements you may have with them, your men must not go to work until every operator does just exactly what the other one does, and that the Lehigh and Schuylkill men must have a new basis before the men in the Lackawanna and Wyoming regions can go to work.'

"There are some individual operators and some companies, who will lose their last dollar before they will enter into any agreement with other operators or will join in an arrangement to recognize the union, by agreeing to any arrangement Mr. Mitchell's organization dictates for a settlement of the strike.

"The leaders of the organization, I trust, will soon see their mistake in insisting upon any further action by the companies, and order the strike off. The companies and operators have given an advance they cannot afford unless they are able to get a better price for coal. Having given in they will all be compelled to make an earnest effort to secure better prices, and without a doubt, after the restriction, caused by the strike, can get better prices for some time to come, certainly until after April 1, in my opinion, so that the suspicion that the advance is only given to be taken back after election is unfair and untrue.

"The United Mine Workers will lay themselves open, if they have not already done so, to the charge of being the largest and most dangerous trust to the public welfare that has ever existed, and the organization will make the mistake of all others, that have failed by going too far and using its power to hurt the public as well as those directly interested.

"If the laws of the country would allow the operators to combine and pursue the same methods that this organization is pursuing, we could then discuss a plan to put the price of coal at such a figure as to pay any wages demanded by our employees. They do not, and that is not the solution of the present trouble."

Before giving out his statement, Mr. Watkins submitted it to various operators, among them Superintendent Lathrop, of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, at Wilkesbarre, and received his unanimous approval. The fact that J. P. Morgan & Co. are allied with the Temple Iron company, and that Mr. Watkins and Mr. Lathrop are chairmen of the operators' committees in their respective territory gives added importance to the statement.

ANTHRACITE TRADE INJURED.

Soft Coal Gaining Territory, Much of Which It May Retain.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The Ledger, in its coal article today, said: "The anthracite coal trade continues without change. Advancing prices are a consequence of the short supply, and, as a necessary result of the scarcity, bituminous coal is already making serious inroads upon the anthracite consumption field, and, as is usually the case, much of the captured territory will probably be retained after the termination of the strike. This is one of the important matters which are to be confronted as a consequence of the present high prices for anthracite coal, and it must have an effect upon the failure of that industry.

"While the convention of miners has met and the movement toward an adjustment may be regarded as begun, it is problematical when the differences can be satisfactorily adjusted and work resumed at the mines. There is an evident desire on the part of the miners to return to work at the 10 per cent advance offered by the operators, so that hopes are entertained of an adjustment of the other subjects of differences."

GOBIN AWAITS OPERATORS' ACTION.

Anxious to Send Them Home and Get Away.

Shenandoah, Oct. 15.—General Gobin is anxiously awaiting the verdict of the operators in regard to the terms of the settlement agreed upon at the Scranton convention. He is anxious to get away and to send the troops home, but the outbreaks at Oneida and Lattimer last week and the condition of affairs in the coal region causes him to hesitate and it is probable that there will be no movement of troops until it is known whether the proposed terms of agreement are acceptable to the operators.

The camp of the Fourth regiment is built on a side hill, and during the heavy rainstorm Sunday morning the water flowed through the tents in streams, and the mess tents were blown down.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT LIKELY NEAR.

Hanna Says Advances Indicate Agreement In a Few Days.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Senator M. A. Hanna, when asked about his statement made during a political meeting at Forty-second and Sherman streets that the Pennsylvania miners' strike would come to an end Sunday, said:

"I do not profess prophetic insight into the strike situation in Pennsylvania; but the last news received from the center of disturbances is to the effect that a settlement is near. Advances received by business men coincide with this statement, and I am told a compromise of the difficulty is a certainty within a few days at least."

AMERICANS RESCUED.

Captain Shields, With All His Party, Who Were Captured by the Rebels.

Manila, Oct. 15.—Captain Devereaux Shields, who, with 51 men of Company F, Twenty-ninth regiment, United States volunteer infantry, was captured by the insurgents last month in the island of Marinduque, was recovered by the American rescue force with all the members of his party.

DATA ON RATE OF WAGES.

Figures by Wright Show Increase Past Two Years.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, has issued a bulletin, giving a summary of data in a previous publication on "Trusts and Industrial Combinations," showing the rate of wages in various occupations for a period extending back in most cases from the present year to 1891. The data was secured directly from the payrolls of establishments in all sections of the country. The information contained pertains to 148 establishments, representing 26 industries and 192 occupations. Those items for which data for the whole period were not given were excluded from consideration in the summary. All the data included, except those for mining, relate to manufacturing industries, the data relative to steam railroads and street railways having been excluded from the summary. The bulletin says that while the data from which the table of wages was prepared do not afford the basis for a strictly scientific calculation of relative wages, a careful examination of the figures leads to the belief that they are fairly representative and undoubtedly approximate very closely the actual conditions for the whole country. The summary shows as follows the average wages for 1891 being taken as a basis and representing 100

Year.	Relative Wages.
1891	100.00
1892	100.30
1893	99.32
1894	98.06
1895	97.88
1896	97.93
1897	98.96
1898	98.79
1899	101.54
1900	103.43

LAWYER PATRICK REFUSED.

Futile Demand on Him For the Rice Will He Claims to Have.

New York Oct. 15.—Wm. M. Rice, Jr., nephew of the late millionaire, visited the tombs and demanded of Attorney Patrick that he produce the original so-called second will. The attorney refused. The young man who was accompanied by a representative from Captain Baker's law firm, then demanded that Patrick show him the assignment which gives the latter absolute control of the Rice millions and makes the first will invalid.

"I will not show it," said Patrick. Thus the bitter contest for the millions is begun. It will be 42 days before the courts can be asked to take up the tangled matter of the two wills and the assignment purported to have been given Patrick as the Rice heirs living outside of the state must be served with notice by publication.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Identity Established of Victims of the Grade Crossing Accident Near New Castle, Pa.

New Castle, Oct. 15.—It was learned that three persons were killed in the grade crossing accident at Robinsons Crossing, near here, in which the Pittsburg and Lake Erie flyer demolished a two-seated phaeton containing four persons. The dead are John Korbie and his daughters, Ellen, aged 10, and Annie, aged 8. The surviving victim is Oscar Kaspi, 30 years old, who, in addition to being badly cut and bruised from head to foot, has four broken ribs and a broken cheek bone. He may recover. At the hospital here yesterday he said that Korbie, who was a prosperous Finnish farmer, had driven to a store to pay a debt and was on his way home when the accident occurred. None of the occupants of the buggy heard the train approaching. Korbie was 35 years old, and had a wife and three children in addition to those killed.

MAY CONFER TODAY.

Rumored Railroad Officials
Will Consider Miners' Action.

OPERATORS MAY AWAIT DECISION.

This Believed to Account For Reticence of Individual Mine Owners at Hazleton—Wyoming, Scranton and Mt. Carmel Operators Opposed to Miners' Stand.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The individual coal operators who could be seen here declined to discuss the action taken by the anthracite miners' convention at Scranton, neither would they say what steps the employers would probably take.

It is believed from their reticence that the individual mine owners are waiting to see what the large coal-carrying roads that mine coal will do. It was said in the coal region last night that the presidents of these roads will hold a conference in New York today for discussion of the action of the convention.

There was a story afloat that the operators will accept the convention's decision, but nothing has come to the surface in this region on which to base the report.

The United Mine Workers' officials say they are now again awaiting on the operators and that they will continue to close up the collieries that have been in operation since the strike began four weeks ago. There are many reports in circulation that if the strike continues much longer a break in the ranks of the idle men will occur.

President Mitchell and his associate officials, however, reassert their confidence that the men, both union and non-union, will remain away from the mines until after the strike is declared off. There is a fear prevalent in this region that if some of the men do return to work trouble would probably arise through the efforts of the strikers to persuade the men to remain on strike. All the collieries that are working still remain heavily guarded.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 15.—A canvass of the operators of the Wyoming valley shows that there is considerable opposition to granting the miners any more concessions than those outlined in the original offer, namely, 10 per cent increase without any conditions. The individual operators especially are opposed to tying themselves up to any agreement. One operator said the only way the strike can be settled is for the strikers to accept the 10 per cent without any provisions.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 15.—The terms of the Scranton convention are not acceptable to the operators and representatives of the coal-carrying companies in this place and Mt. Carmel. The Reading officials do not think the sliding scale will be abolished by the company, while operators are averse to signing a contract binding them to pay the 10 per cent in crease until April.

No orders have been received as yet from headquarters of any company to resume work today. Miners say they will not go to work until officially advised by President Mitchell.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The anthracite coal miners decided to accept the 10 per cent increase in wages offered by the mine owners, provided they will continue the payment of the advance until next April, and will abolish the sliding scale. If the operators consider the proposition unacceptable the miners are willing to arbitrate the question at issue. They also decided to continue the strike until the operators agree to the proposition.

OPERATORS CAN'T AGREE.

One of Them Said It Was Impossible.
Declared Leaders Had Better
Declare Strike Off.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—In response to a request as to his views on the answer of the United Mine Workers to the operators' proposition, T. H. Watkins, president of the Temple Iron company, gave out a statement, saying in part:

"We will give our men reasonable time to return to work, trusting that they will see the mistake of being guided and influenced by men who, however honest and sincere they may be in their efforts to benefit the miners of the anthracite region, are unable to advise them intelligently and for their best good, because of their ignorance of the conditions controlling the trade.

"Mr. Mitchell apparently thinks that the control of mining operations rests in the hands of one or two persons, notably Mr. Morgan, or that there is a trust of some sort, which can decide the whole question, when, as a matter of fact, there are only three or four of the transportation companies in which any one concern has any influence, and they do not represent 30 per cent of the whole anthracite tonnage. More than 100 different companies and individuals are interested in mining the total tonnage, and no one man can control or have the slightest influence over their action.

"The one thing the companies are apparently agreed upon and that is that they will not agree. Efforts have been made for years to get some plan to which all can agree to control the tonnage, so that fair prices can be secured for a product which requires so large an investment of money with such a great risk to the labor employed as well as the capital employed but effort after effort has failed through failure to agree on a plan that would not violate the laws and to which all would agree.

"But Mr. Mitchell comes here and says in effect, 'No matter how well you may treat your employees or how much you pay them or what agreements you may have with them, your men must not go to work until every operator does just exactly what the other one does, and that the Lehigh and Schuylkill men must have a new basis before the men in the Lackawanna and Wyoming regions can go to work.'

"There are some individual operators and some companies, who will lose their last dollar before they will enter into any agreement with other operators or will join in an arrangement to recognize the union, by agreeing to any arrangement Mr. Mitchell's organization dictates for a settlement of the strike.

"The leaders of the organization, I trust, will soon see their mistake in insisting upon any further action by the companies, and order the strike off. The companies and operators have given an advance they cannot afford unless they are able to get a better price for coal. Having given in they will all be compelled to make an earnest effort to secure better prices, and without a doubt, after the restriction, caused by the strike, can get better prices for some time to come, certainly until after April 1. In my opinion, so that the suspicion that the advance is only given to be taken back after election is unfair and unwise.

"The United Mine Workers will lay themselves open, if they have not already done so, to the charge of being the largest and most dangerous trust to the public welfare that has ever existed, and the organization will make the mistake of all others, that have failed by going too far and using its power to hurt the public as well as those directly interested.

"If the laws of the country would allow the operators to combine and pursue the same methods that this organization is pursuing, we could then discuss a plan to put the price of coal at such a figure as to pay any wages demanded by our employees. They do not, and that is not the solution of the present trouble."

Before giving out his statement, Mr. Watkins submitted it to various operators, among them Superintendent Lathrop, of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, at Wilkesbarre, and it received his unanimous approval. The fact that J. P. Morgan & Co. are allied with the Temple Iron company, and that Mr. Watkins and Mr. Lathrop are chairmen of the operators' committees in their respective territory gives added importance to the statement.

ANTHRACITE TRADE INJURED.

Soft Coal Gaining Territory, Much of Which It May Retain.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The Ledger, in its coal article today, said: "The anthracite coal trade continues without change. Advancing prices are a consequence of the short supply, and, as a necessary result of the scarcity, bituminous coal is already making serious inroads upon the anthracite consumption field, and, as is usually the case, much of the captured territory will probably be retained after the termination of the strike. This is one of the important matters which are to be confronted as a consequence of the present high prices for anthracite coal, and it must have an effect upon the failure of that industry."

"While the convention of miners has met and the movement toward an adjustment may be regarded as begun, it is problematical when the differences can be satisfactorily adjusted and work resumed at the mines. There is an evident desire on the part of the miners to return to work at the 10 per cent advance offered by the operators, so that hopes are entertained of an adjustment of the other subjects of differences."

GOBIN AWAITS OPERATORS' ACTION.

Anxious to Send Them Home and Get Away.

Shenandoah, Oct. 15.—General Gobin is anxiously awaiting the verdict of the operators in regard to the terms of the settlement agreed upon at the Scranton convention. He is anxious to get away and to send the troops home, but the outbreaks at Oneida and Lattimer last week and the condition of affairs in the coal region causes him to hesitate and it is probable that there will be no movement of troops until it is known whether the proposed terms of agreement are acceptable to the operators. The camp of the Fourth regiment is built on a side hill, and during the heavy rainstorm Sunday morning the water flowed through the tents in streams, and the mess tents were blown down.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT LIKELY NEAR.

Hanna Says Advances Indicate Agreement In a Few Days.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Senator M. A. Hanna, when asked about his statement made during a political meeting at Forty-second and Sherman streets that the Pennsylvania miners' strike would come to an end Sunday, said:

"I do not profess prophetic insight into the strike situation in Pennsylvania; but the last news received from the center of disturbances is to the effect that a settlement is near. Advances received by business men coincide with this statement, and I am told a compromise of the difficulty is a certainty within a few days at least."

DATA ON RATE OF WAGES.

Figures by Wright Show Increase Past Two Years.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, has issued a bulletin, giving a summary of data in a previous publication on "Trusts and Industrial Combinations," showing the rate of wages in various occupations for a period extending back in most cases from the present year to 1891. The data was secured directly from the payrolls of establishments in all sections of the country. The information contained pertains to 148 establishments, representing 26 industries and 192 occupations. Those items for which data for the whole period were not given were excluded from consideration in the summary. All the data included, except those for mining, relate to manufacturing industries, the data relative to steam railroads and street railways having been excluded from the summary. The bulletin says that while the data from which the table of wages was prepared do not afford the basis for a strictly scientific calculation of relative wages, a careful examination of the figures leads to the belief that they are fairly representative and undoubtedly approximate very closely the actual conditions for the whole country. The summary shows as follows the average wages for 1891 being taken as a basis and representing 100.

Year.	Relative Wages.
1892	100.30
1893	99.32
1894	98.06
1895	97.88
1896	97.93
1897	98.96
1898	98.79
1899	101.54
1900	103.43

LAWYER PATRICK REFUSED.

Futile Demand on Him For the Rice Will He Claims to Have.

New York Oct. 15.—Wm. M. Rice, Jr., nephew of the late millionaire, visited the tombs and demanded of Attorney Patrick that he produce the original so-called second will. The attorney refused. The young man who was accompanied by a representative from Captain Baker's law firm, then demanded that Patrick show him the assignment which gives the latter absolute control of the Rice millions and makes the first will invalid.

"I will not show it," said Patrick. Thus the bitter contest for the millions is begun. It will be 42 days before the courts can be asked to take up the tangled matter of the two wills and the assignment purported to have been given Patrick as the Rice heirs living outside of the state must be served with notice by publication.

Rumored Railroad Officials Will Consider Miners' Action.

This Believed to Account For Reticence of Individual Mine Owners at Hazle- ton—Wyoming, Scranton and Mt. Carmel Operators Opposed to Miners' Stand.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The anthracite coal miners decided to accept the 10 per cent increase in wages offered by the mine owners, provided they will continue the payment of the advance until next April, and will abolish the sliding scale. If the operators consider the proposition unacceptable the miners are willing to arbitrate the question at issue. They also decided to continue the strike until the operators agree to the proposition.

One of Them Said It Was Impossible.
Declared Leaders Had Better
Declare Strike Off.

"Mr. Mitchell apparently thinks that the control of mining operations rests in the hands of one or two persons, notably Mr. Morgan, or that there is a trust of some sort, which can decide the whole question when.

Before giving out his statement, Mr. Watkins submitted it to various operators, among them Superintendent Lathrope, of the Lehigh Valley coal company, at Wilkesbarre, and received his unanimous approval. The fact that J. P. Morgan & Co. are allied with the Temple Iron company, and that Mr. Watkins and Mr. Lathrope are chairmen of the operators' committees in their respective territory, gives added importance to the statement.

ft Coal Gaining Territory, Much of Which It May Retain.

While the convention of miners has not and the movement toward an adjustment may be regarded as begun, it is problematical when the differences can be satisfactorily adjusted and work resumed at the mines. There is an evident desire on the part of the miners to return to work at the 10 per cent advance offered by the operators, but that hopes are entertained of an adjustment of the other subjects of differences."

Figures by Wright Show Increase Past Two Years.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, has issued a bulletin, giving a summary of data in a previous publication on "Trusts and Industrial Combinations," showing the rate of wages in various occupations for a period extending back in most cases from the present year to 1891. The data was secured directly from the payrolls of establishments in all sections of the country. The information contained pertains to 148 establishments, representing 26 industries and 192 occupations. Those items for which data for the whole period were not given were excluded from consideration in the summary. All the data included, except those for mining, relate to manufacturing industries, the data relative to steam railroads and street railways having been excluded from the summary. The bulletin says that while the data from which the table of wages was prepared do not afford the basis for a strictly scientific calculation of relative wages, a careful examination of the figures leads to the belief that they are fairly representative and undoubtedly approximate very closely the actual conditions for the whole country. The summary shows as follows the average wages for 1891 being taken as a basis and representing 100

Identity Established of Victims of the Grade Crossing Accident Near New Castle, Pa.

New Castle, Oct. 15.—It was learned that three persons were killed in the grade crossing accident at Robinsons Crossing, near here, in which the Pittsburg and Lake Erie flyer demolished a two-seated phaeton containing four persons. The dead are John Korbie and his daughters, Ellen, aged 10, and Annie, aged 8. The surviving victim is Oscar Kaspi, 30 years old, who, in addition to being badly cut and bruised from head to foot, has four broken ribs and a broken cheek bone. He may recover. At the hospital here yesterday he said that Korbie, who was a prosperous Finnish farmer, had driven to a store to pay a debt and was on his way home when the accident occurred. None of the occupants of the buggy heard the train approaching. Korbie was 35 years old, and had a wife and three children in addition to those killed.

CHAIRMAN JONES

And His Trust Controlling Round Cotton Bales.

PROVISIONS OF THE TEXAS LAW

Against Trusts, Under Which Suit Has Been Brought at Waco to Compel This Trust to Cease Doing Business in the Lone Star State.

Senator Jones of Arkansas, Democratic campaign chairman, will not soon hear the last of his connection with a trust, in partnership with Searles of the sugar trust. The St. Louis Republic, the Missouri Bryan organ, feels so much concern over "the American Cotton company's monopoly, which has been the subject of much condemnation by Republican speakers, because Senator Jones, a Democrat, is connected with it, that it takes pains to explain that this "is based on the patent of an invention." The Republic says that when the patent expires, all manufacturers can then use the invention, but adds that "until that time it is properly secured to the inventor."

Evidently, the Republic does not keep posted upon the drift of discussion upon this very question of Jones and his round cotton bale trust in the banner Democratic state of Texas, although that is within the Republic's own territory. This concern is looked upon in Texas as one of the most gigantic and far-reaching of all the trusts. "It has almost driven the square bale cotton out of business, and nothing can keep it from monopolizing the entire traffic very soon, with a tremendous tax upon the entire cotton producing and handling trade," except the rigid enforcement of the Texas anti-trust law.

This corporation was the subject of several attacks during the last session of the Texas legislature, and well known Democratic members said some very harsh things about the Hon. James K. Jones, president of the corporation, who is also chairman of the Democratic national committee. It was at first intended to pass a law especially prohibiting the company from doing business in Texas, and such a bill was introduced in the house by Representative Cole, but it was deemed that it would be class legislation, and that the company's exclusion from the state should be obtained through the new anti-trust law.

In order, however, to make sure of reaching that end in this new law a special provision was inserted and adopted, designed expressly to meet the very point now raised by Jones' defenders—the protection of the patent law—for it reads:

"Each corporation, co-partnership, firm or individual who may be the owner or lessee of a patent to any machinery intended, used or designed for manufacturing any raw materials or preparing the same for market by any wrapping, baling or other process, who shall lease, rent or operate the same in their own name and refuse or fail to put the same on the market for sale, shall be adjudged a monopoly, and be subject to all the pains and penalties provided in this act."

This special provision hits the cotton bale trust squarely between the eyes, for it has refused to sell any of its machines, operating them only under lease or through its own agents, the very offense provided against in the Texas act.

The law also provides that some officer of every corporation doing business in Texas shall make oath that it is not a trust, nor in any way operated in violation of the anti-trust law. A copy of this blank affidavit was sent to James K. Jones, president, and it has been returned properly sworn to, the officer making the necessary oath being George W. Oakley, secretary, of New York city.

How such an oath could be made as to Texas, in view of the explicit provision of the Texas statute, just quoted, will puzzle plain people, but President and Chairman Jones, through his secretary, seems to have strained his conscience with perfect ease. It is not surprising, however, to learn that, notwithstanding this affidavit, the foregoing and other provisions of the anti-trust law are being violated by this corporation in Texas, and these charges may result in indictments being returned against the alleged guilty officers of the corporation by the grand jurors of several of the judicial districts of the state within the next few weeks.

Is it not a curious conclusion to a campaign based upon a pretended attack upon trusts, by the party that never did anything in congress against the trusts, and that has refused to vote for the only practical way to get at the unlawful combinations, that its national committee chairman will be brought into court in the banner state of the same party, for violation of the laws in that state against trusts, as president of an unlawful monopoly? Evidently, the people of Texas, judging from this law, think with Bryan that there is "no trust but a bad trust," except that a cotton bale trust is worst of all.

FAVOR AMERICAN RULE.

Storer States Catholic Church's Attitude Favored Philippines, After Interviewing Pope.

Geneva, Oct. 15.—Mr. Bellamy Storer, United States minister to Spain, in the course of a conversation here regarding his recent interview with the pope, said:

"Pope Leo appeared to be in much better health than when I saw him two years ago. He has lost none of the interest he has had from the first in matters relating to the church of Rome."

"Since Archbishop Ireland's visit it is clearly understood there that the best interests of the Roman Catholic church demand American rule in the Philippines. The United States and the Catholic church have the same aims there and hope to work together for order and peace."

Mr. Storer asserted that the Filipinos had made three attempts to open negotiations with the vatican, all of which were refused. The pope seems full of life, Mr. Storer says.

WANAMAKER SPOKE.

Addressed Y. M. C. A. Railroad Convention—Hour of Prayer—Smith's Appeal to Accept Christ.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The delegates to the annual conference of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. began the observance of the Sabbath day by meeting in the auditorium of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. building about 9 a. m. and spending a quiet hour in a short service of prayer and song. Thence they scattered about the different churches of the city, at which many of the delegates took part in the exercises.

In the afternoon a general mass meeting of men was held in the auditorium, at which interest was aroused by the impassioned exhortation of Frederick B. Smith, of Chicago, which was aimed at those who had not yet openly declared their belief in the religion of Christ.

At the evening session the convention hall was packed, even the aisles being filled with chairs, and many persons standing. There was prayer and music. Ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker was among those who spoke. He delivered a felicitous address, which met with warm responses from the assembly.

CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Some Delegates Filled Pulpits—Pittsburg After Next Convention.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 15.—Delegates to the national convention of the Christian missionary societies of the Christian church filled the pulpits of the numerous churches Sunday or attended prayer and song services in different parts of the city.

The sessions of the American Christian Missionary society will be resumed today the annual address of President W. K. Homan being the first business on the program. Buffalo, Pittsburg, Minneapolis and Los Angeles are making a fight for the next annual convention.

In two months talking Mr. Bryan has not yet given so much as a single word in support of the Democratic platform of a protectorate which he has so fondly adopted, to show the least authority for it in the constitution, laws or the supreme court decisions; nor has any other Democratic speaker, nor any Democratic paper. It is an entire innovation upon all American precedent, and, as such, the very essence and spirit of imperialism.

WAR WILL END

WITH THE ELECTION OF MCKINLEY TO THE PRESIDENCY.

Recently Captured Filipino Documents Prove This—Sandico's Letter to a Rebel Officer Makes This Statement With Absolute Frankness.

In the latest batch of insurgent documents captured in Luzon and forwarded to the war department by General MacArthur, are letters from agents for the Filipino junta at Hongkong, which express their views with great freedom. One of these is from Theo Sandico to Lieutenant Colonel Casimiro Tinio of the insurgent army, in which the writer says in part:

"If the re-election of Mr. McKinley be accomplished and the revolution in China be wiped out, and the war in the Transvaal take no new complications, then will I be the first to accept the peace that I believe to be necessary, though it be at the cost of acknowledging the sovereignty of the United States, since I consider that our forces are now impotent to defend our sacred and legitimate rights."

General MacArthur, in transmitting these papers, says that "possibly Sandico is as close to Aguinaldo as any of the leaders who continue in open hostility."

A letter from Regio, written from Hongkong to Sandico, discusses the Philadelphia anti-imperialist convention, and expresses the view that the alleged victories obtained by the Filipinos exercise great influence "on the very impressionable minds of the American people." He concludes:

"This impression is and will be one of the determined causes of our triumph, which triumph will come soon if we but resist a little more, now that but little is lacking to change the announced elections, as with the down fall of McKinley comes the ascendance of the starred banner over our soil."

There is no doubt but that Sandico, in this confidential letter, expressed not only his own feeling but that of the Filipino leaders in general. If Bryan be defeated, the end of the insurrection will be at once in sight. They will yield obedience to the lawful authority of the United States and the Philippine war will be over. There will then be no difficulty in extending our rule to the small area of these islands which is yet disturbed, and by the time McKinley's second term is over there will not be a man in the United States but will be glad that we have retained the archipelago and extended the blessings of freedom and civilization under the American flag to the isles of the sea.

THE WAGE EARNERS.

Savings Bank Figures Show Their Prosperous Condition.

Mr. Bryan rashly takes the ground that the wage-earners of the United States have not benefited by the prosperity of the past four years. His theory is that they have had to pay more for what they have bought, and that this has more than covered the increased wages which they they received. Mr. Bryan, as usual, is talking theoretically, without due reference to facts. The figures refute his theory.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1896, the wages paid in the United States amounted to $2,605,750,183. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, the total was $3,125,750,000. The increase over 1896 is $520,000,000. Now, if the wage-earners have been compelled to spend all their increased earnings on the increased cost of living, the fact would be shown, and it would appear in the item of savings bank deposits. The fact that the bread winners earned less than they spent was shown clearly by the savings bank deposits of 1894, which decreased more than $37,000,000 for that year.

But from 1895 to 1899 the savings bank deposits of the wage earners increased by more than $420,000,000. The reports for the fiscal year ended June 30 last show that the ratio of gain has been more than retained, so that the savings bank deposits today are not less than $2,500,000,000. Now, please note the following interesting table of comparisons:

Wage-earners, 1900 7,500,000
Wage payments, 1899 $3,125,750,000

Savings bank depositors,
1900 6,000,000
Savings bank deposits,
1900 $2,500,000,000
Wage-earners, 1896 5,300,000
Wage earnings, 1896 $2,605,750,000
Savings bank depositors,
1896 5,065,494
Savings bank deposits,
1896 $1,907,156,277

These figures, which are official, show that Mr. Bryan's rag-time theory has no basis of fact. The increased cost of living, of which he prates, is largely a myth. The increase in wages is a solid fact, and is reflected in the increased deposits in the savings banks by the workmen of the United States.

OLEO CASES TO SUPREME COURT.

Over 600 Suits in Allegheny County Will Be Affected by a Decision.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—The fight over the oleomargarine act of 1895 is to be renewed in the supreme court of Pennsylvania and over 600 cases of a civil and criminal nature now pending in the courts of Allegheny county are depending upon the result. Attorney S. R. Huss, chief counsel for many of the oleomargarine dealers, served notice on J. F. Burke, counsel for the department of agriculture, that a special allowance had been obtained from the supreme court granting Owen McCann the right to take an appeal from the recent decision of the superior court. In its opinion the superior court declared substantially that the law was constitutional, and that the sale of colored oleomargarine, regardless of how the color was produced, whether by the addition of a foreign substance or by the mixture of natural ingredients, is unlawful. Similar decisions were rendered in cases appealed from Erie and Philadelphia counties.

The appeal to the supreme court will call for a review of all the legal questions raised touching the constitutionality of the law of 1895, and it is understood that some of the best legal talent in the city, including D. T. Watson and others, will be employed in the argument. The final decree will affect fully 600 other cases now pending. ROOSEVELT HAD QUIET SUNDAY.

His Car Sidetracked in the Country. Guest of A. J. Alexander.

Spring Station, Ky., Oct. 15.—Here about 18 miles from Lexington, Governor Roosevelt's special train rested on a Louisville and Nashville sidetrack Sunday. The candidate for vice president, accompanied by Leslie Combs, chairman of the Republican state central committee; Mrs. Combs, Major Hersey, of Rough Rider fame, and Colonel Curtis Guild, Jr., spent the day at the residence of A. J. Alexander, situated in the center of a farm comprising 3,300 acres. Before leaving Louisville word was given out that the train would proceed at once to Lexington, but a secret order directed that it stop over Sunday in the country, to enable the governor to recover from the fatigue caused by his unusually hard work of the last few days.

The rest brought about the desired physical brightening. The governor's voice has almost entirely lost its huskiness, and he says he feels as well as on the first day of the campaign. Early today the special left for Lexington.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—Evidence concerning the plot to burn the Hotel Arlington Saturday night is accumulating fast in the hands of Fire Marshal William D. McGill. He believes it probable that those responsible for the crime will be arrested shortly.

David Adams was taken into custody Sunday morning by Detective Frank Lee at 1509 Sheffield street, Allegheny, where he had been living, and taken to the Allegheny police station. On the way to the station house he was told by Detective Lee that he was wanted in connection with the hotel fire. Adams disclaimed any knowledge of it, and said that he had not been in the building in a year.

CHAIRMAN JONES

And His Trust Controlling Round Cotton Bales.

PROVISIONS OF THE TEXAS LAW

Against Trusts, Under Which Suit Has Been Brought at Waco to Compel This Trust to Cease Doing Business in the Lone Star State.

Senator Jones of Arkansas, Democratic campaign chairman, will not soon hear the last of his connection with a trust, in partnership with Searles of the sugar trust. The St. Louis Republic, the Missouri Bryan organ, feels so much concern over "the American Cotton company's monopoly," which has been the subject of much condemnation by Republican speakers, because Senator Jones, a Democrat, is connected with it, that it takes pains to explain that this "is based on the patent of an invention." The Republic says that when the patent expires, all manufacturers can then use the invention, but adds that "until that time it is properly secured to the inventor." Evidently, the Republic does not keep posted upon the drift of discussion upon this very question of Jones and his round cotton bale trust in the banner Democratic state of Texas, although that is within the Republic's own territory. This concern is looked upon in Texas as one of the most gigantic and far-reaching of all the trusts. "It has almost driven the square bale cotton out of business, and nothing can keep it from monopolizing the entire traffic very soon, with a tremendous tax upon the entire cotton producing and handling trade," except the rigid enforcement of the Texas anti-trust law.

This corporation was the subject of several attacks during the last session of the Texas legislature, and well known Democratic members said some very harsh things about the Hon. James K. Jones, president of the corporation, who is also chairman of the Democratic national committee. It was at first intended to pass a law especially prohibiting the company from doing business in Texas, and such a bill was introduced in the house by Representative Cole, but it was deemed that it would be class legislation, and that the company's exclusion from the state should be obtained through the new anti-trust law.

In order, however, to make sure of reaching that end in this new law a special provision was inserted and adopted, designed expressly to meet the very point now raised by Jones' defenders—the protection of the patent law—for it reads:

"Each corporation, co-partnership, firm or individual who may be the owner or lessee of a patent to any machinery intended, used or designed for manufacturing any raw materials or preparing the same for market by any wrapping, baling or other process, who shall lease, rent or operate the same in their own name and refuse or fail to put the same on the market for sale, shall be adjudged a monopoly, and be subject to all the pains and penalties provided in this act."

This special provision hits the cotton bale trust squarely between the eyes, for it has refused to sell any of its machines, operating them only under lease or through its own agents, the very offense provided against in the Texas act.

The law also provides that some officer of every corporation doing business in Texas shall make oath that it is not a trust, nor in any way operated in violation of the anti-trust law. A copy of this blank affidavit was sent to James K. Jones, president, and it has been returned properly sworn to, the officer making the necessary oath being George W. Oakley, secretary, of New York city.

How such an oath could be made as to Texas, in view of the explicit provision of the Texas statute, just quoted, will puzzle plain people, but President and Chairman Jones, through his secretary, seems to have strained his conscience with perfect ease. It is not surprising, however, to learn that, notwithstanding this affidavit, the foregoing and other provisions of the anti-trust law are being violated by this corporation in Texas, and these charges may result in indictments being returned against the alleged guilty officers of the corporation by the grand juries of several of the judicial districts of the state within the next few weeks.

Is it not a curious conclusion to a campaign based upon a pretended attack upon trusts, by the party that never did anything in congress against the trusts, and that has refused to vote for the only practical way to get at the unlawful combinations, that its national committee chairman will be brought into court in the banner state of the same party, for violation of the laws in that state against trusts, as president of an unlawful monopoly? Evidently, the people of Texas, judging from this law, think with Bryan that there is "no trust but a bad trust," except that a cotton bale trust is worst of all.

FAVOR AMERICAN RULE.

Storer States Catholic Church's Attitude Favored Philippines, After Interviewing Pope.

Geneva, Oct. 15.—Mr. Bellamy Storer, United States minister to Spain, in the course of a conversation here regarding his recent interview with the pope, said:

"Pope Leo appeared to be in much better health than when I saw him two years ago. He has lost none of the interest he has had from the first in matters relating to the church of Rome.

"Since Archbishop Ireland's visit it is clearly understood there that the best interests of the Roman Catholic church demand American rule in the Philippines. The United States and the Catholic church have the same aims there and hope to work together for order and peace."

Mr. Storer asserted that the Philippines had made three attempts to open negotiations with the vatican, all of which were refused. The pope seems full of life, Mr. Storer says.

WANAMAKER SPOKE.

Addressed Y. M. C. A. Railroad Convention—Hour of Prayer—Smith's Appeal to Accept Christ.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The delegates to the annual conference of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. began the observance of the Sabbath day by meeting in the auditorium of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. building about 9 a. m. and spending a quiet hour in a short service of prayer and song. Thence they scattered about the different churches of the city, at which many of the delegates took part in the exercises.

In the afternoon a general mass meeting of men was held in the auditorium, at which interest was aroused by the impassioned exhortation of Frederick B. Smith, of Chicago, which was aimed at those who had not yet openly declared their belief in the religion of Christ.

At the evening session the convention hall was packed, even the aisles being filled with chairs, and many persons standing. There was prayer and music. Ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker was among those who spoke. He delivered a felicitous address, which met with warm responses from the assembly.

CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Some Delegates Filled Pulpits—Pittsburg After Next Convention.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 15.—Delegates to the national convention of the missionary societies of the Christian church filled the pulpits of the numerous churches Sunday or attended prayer and song services in different parts of the city.

The sessions of the American Christian Missionary society will be resumed today the annual address of President W. K. Homan being the first business on the program. Buffalo, Pittsburg, Minneapolis and Los Angeles are making a fight for the next annual convention.

In two months talking Mr. Bryan has not yet given so much as a single word in support of the Democratic platform of a protectorate which he has so fondly adopted, to show the least authority for it in the constitution, laws or the supreme court decisions; nor has any other Democratic speaker, nor any Democratic paper. It is an entire innovation upon all American precedent, and, as such, the very essence and spirit of imperialism.

WAR WILL END

WITH THE ELECTION OF MCKINLEY TO THE PRESIDENCY.

Recently Captured Filipino Documents Prove This—Sandico's Letter to a Rebel Officer Makes This Statement With Absolute Frankness.

In the latest batch of insurgent documents captured in Luzon and forwarded to the war department by General MacArthur, are letters from agents for the Filipino junta at Hongkong, which express their views with great freedom. One of these is from Theo Sandico to Lieutenant Colonel Casimiro Tinio of the insurgent army, in which the writer says in part:

"If the re-election of Mr. McKinley be accomplished and the revolution in China be wiped out, and the war in the Transvaal take no new complications, then will I be the first to accept the peace that I believe to be necessary, though it be at the cost of acknowledging the sovereignty of the United States, since I consider that our forces are now impotent to defend our sacred and legitimate rights."

General MacArthur, in transmitting these papers, says that "possibly Sandico is as close to Aguinaldo as any of the leaders who continue in open hostility."

A letter from Regio, written from Hongkong to Sandico, discusses the Philadelphia anti-imperialist convention, and expresses the view that the alleged victories obtained by the Filipinos exercise great influence "on the very impressionable minds of the American people." He concludes:

"This impression is and will be one of the determined causes of our triumph, which triumph will come soon if we but resist a little more, now that but little is lacking to change the announced elections, as with the down fall of McKinley comes the ascendance of the starred banner over our soil."

There is no doubt but that Sandico, in this confidential letter, expressed not only his own feeling but that of the Filipino leaders in general. If Bryan be defeated, the end of the insurrection will be at once in sight. They will yield obedience to the lawful authority of the United States and the Philippine war will be over. There will then be no difficulty in extending our rule to the small area of these islands which is yet disturbed, and by the time McKinley's second term is over there will not be a man in the United States but will be glad that we have retained the archipelago and extended the blessings of freedom and civilization under the American flag to the isles of the sea.

THE WAGE EARNERS.

Savings Bank Figures Show Their Prosperous Condition.

Mr. Bryan rashly takes the ground that the wage-earners of the United States have not benefited by the prosperity of the past four years. His theory is that they have had to pay more for what they have bought, and that this has more than covered the increased wages which they they received. Mr. Bryan, as usual, is talking theoretically, without due reference to facts. The figures refute his theory.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1896, the wages paid in the United States amounted to $2,605,750,183. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, the total was $3,125,750,000. The increase over 1896 is $520,000,000. Now, if the wage-earners have been compelled to spend all their increased earnings on the increased cost of living, the fact would be shown, and it would appear in the item of savings bank deposits. The fact that the bread winners earned less than they spent was shown clearly by the savings bank deposits of 1894, which decreased more than $37,000,000 for that year.

But from 1895 to 1899 the savings bank deposits of the wage earners increased by more than $420,000,000. The reports for the fiscal year ended June 30 last show that the ratio of gain has been more than retained, so that the savings bank deposits today are not less than $2,500,000,000. Now, please note the following interesting table of comparisons:

Wage-earners, 1900 7,500,000
Wage payments, 1899 $3,125,750,000

Savings bank depositors,
1900	6,000,000
Savings bank deposits,
1900	$2,500,000,000
Wage-earners, 1896	5,300,000
Wage earnings, 1896	$2,605,750,000
Savings bank depositors,
1896	5,065,494
Savings bank deposits,
1896	$1,907,156,277

These figures, which are official, show that Mr. Bryan's rag-time theory has no basis of fact. The increased cost of living, of which he prates, is largely a myth. The increase in wages is a solid fact, and is reflected in the increased deposits in the savings banks by the workingmen of the United States.

OLEO CASES TO SUPREME COURT.

Over 600 Suits In Allegheny County Will Be Affected by a Decision.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—The fight over the oleomargarine act of 1895 is to be renewed in the supreme court of Pennsylvania and over 600 cases of a civil and criminal nature now pending in the courts of Allegheny county are depending upon the result. Attorney S. R. Huss, chief counsel for many of the oleomargarine dealers, served notice on J. F. Burke, counsel for the department of agriculture, that a special allowance had been obtained from the supreme court granting Owen McCann the right to take an appeal from the recent decision of the superior court. In its opinion the superior court declared substantially that the law was constitutional, and that the sale of colored oleomargarine, regardless of how the color was produced, whether by the addition of a foreign substance or by the mixture of natural ingredients, is unlawful. Similar decisions were rendered in cases appealed from Erie and Philadelphia counties.

The appeal to the supreme court will call for a review of all the legal questions raised touching the constitutionality of the law of 1895, and it is understood that some of the best legal talent in the city, including D. T. Watson and others, will be employed in the argument. The final decree will affect fully 600 other cases now pending. Mr. Burke accepted service of the notice of appeal, informed the department at Harrisburg of what had been done and is awaiting instructions.

Mr. Bryan, as usual, is talking theoretically, without due reference to facts. The figures refute his theory.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1896, the wages paid in the United States amounted to $2,605,750,183. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, the total was $3,125,750,000. The increase over 1896 is $520,000,000. Now, if the wage-earners have been compelled to spend all their increased earnings on the increased cost of living, the fact would be shown, and it would appear in the item of savings bank deposits. The fact that the bread winners earned less than they spent was shown clearly by the savings bank deposits of 1894, which decreased more than $37,000,000 for that year.

But from 1895 to 1899 the savings bank deposits of the wage earners increased by more than $420,000,000. The reports for the fiscal year ended June 30 last show that the ratio of gain has been more than retained, so that the savings bank deposits today are not less than $2,500,000,000. Now, please note the following interesting table of comparisons:

Wage-earners, 1900	7,500,000
Wage payments, 1900	$3,125,750,000

Savings bank depositors, 1900	6,000,000
Savings bank deposits, 1900	$2,500,000,000
Wage-earners, 1896	5,300,000
Wage earnings, 1896	$2,605,750,000
Savings bank depositors, 1896	5,065,494
Savings bank deposits, 1896	$1,907,156,277

These figures, which are official, show that Mr. Bryan's rag-time theory has no basis of fact. The increased cost of living, of which he prates, is largely a myth. The increase in wages is a solid fact, and is reflected in the increased deposits in the savings banks by the workingmen of the United States.

OLEO CASES TO SUPREME COURT.

Over 600 Suits in Allegheny County Will Be Affected by a Decision.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—The fight over the oleomargarine act of 1895 is to be renewed in the supreme court of Pennsylvania and over 600 cases of a civil and criminal nature now pending in the courts of Allegheny county are depending upon the result. Attorney S. R. Huss, chief counsel for many of the oleomargarine dealers, served notice on J. F. Burke, counsel for the department of agriculture, that a special allowance had been obtained from the supreme court granting Owen McCann the right to take an appeal from the recent decision of the superior court. In its opinion the superior court declared substantially that the law was constitutional, and that the sale of colored oleomargarine, regardless of how the color was produced, whether by the addition of a foreign substance or by the mixture of natural ingredients, is unlawful. Similar decisions were rendered in cases appealed from Erie and Philadelphia counties.

The appeal to the supreme court will call for a review of all the legal questions raised touching the constitutionality of the law of 1895, and it is understood that some of the best legal talent in the city, including D. T. Watson and others, will be employed in the argument. The final decree will affect fully 600 other cases now pending. Mr. Burke accepted service of the notice of appeal, informed the department at Harrisburg of what had been done and is awaiting instructions.

ROOSEVELT HAD QUIET SUNDAY.

His Car Sidetracked in the Country. Guest of A. J. Alexander.

Spring Station, Ky., Oct. 15.—Here about 18 miles from Lexington, Governor Roosevelt's special train rested on a Louisville and Nashville sidetrack Sunday. The candidate for vice president, accompanied by Leslie Combs, chairman of the Republican state central committee; Mrs. Combs, Major Hersey, of Rough Rider fame, and Colonel Curtis Guild, Jr., spent the day at the residence of A. J. Alexander, situated in the center of a farm comprising 3,300 acres. Before leaving Louisville word was given out that the train would proceed at once to Lexington, but a secret order directed that it stop over Sunday in the country, to enable the governor to recover from the fatigue caused by his unusually hard work of the last few days.

The rest brought about the desired physical brightening. The governor's voice has almost entirely lost its huskiness, and he says he feels as well as on the first day of the campaign. Early today the special left for Lexington.

MAY SOON ARREST FIREBUGS.

Attempt to Destroy a Pittsburg Hotel. One Man in Custody.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—Evidence concerning the plot to burn the Hotel Arlington Saturday night is accumulating fast in the hands of Fire Marshal William D. McGill. He believes it probable that those responsible for the crime will be arrested shortly.

David Adams was taken into custody Sunday morning by Detective Frank Lee at 1509 Sheffield street, Allegheny, where he had been living, and taken to the Allegheny police station. On the way to the station house he was told by Detective Lee that he was wanted in connection with the hotel fire. Adams disclaimed any knowledge of it, and said that he had not been in the building in a year.

Our First Pianos.

The first pianos known in America were imported from London in 1784 by John Jacob Astor, but as they could not stand the rigors of this climate they soon became ruined. This fact led to the attempt to build pianos in this country, and in the early part of the nineteenth century pianos made their appearance.

AN INCREASE OF FIFTY PER CENT

Shown In Deposits In the State Banks During the Past Four Years.

IT IS A WONDERFUL INCREASE

The State Board of Equalization Completes Its Work and Gives Out Figures.

TELLS A STORY OF PROSPERITY

The state board of equalization of bank stocks has completed its work for this year, and the result was made public last week. It shows a wonderful increase in deposits, surplus and undivided profits of the banks, both state and national, of Ohio, and tells the story of the country's prosperity in figures that are more eloquent than words.

There has been an increase in the number of national banks of six; in the capital stock, $394,715, and in the surplus and undivided profits, $2,674,689.

The total increase in the working capital of the national banks is $3,069,404.

The total of the capital and earnings of the banks is $62,128,039.

The board placed the value of the national banks at 37,638,230 for taxation, an increase of $2,200,006.

The state banks made an equally good showing. The increase in number was 16; in capital stock, $1,925,982, and in surplus and undivided profits, $654,058, making a total increase in the working capital of $2,579,840.

The total of the capital and earnings of these banks is $18,603,494.

The value for taxation as returned by the board is $11,042,361, an increase of $1,536,760.

The board makes no record of deposits, but Bank Clerk Taylor of the office of the auditor of state has compiled a table which shows the increase in the past four years. The figures are for the same days in May of 1896 and May, 1900:

The total deposits in the state banks in 1896 were $62,732,002 37; on the same day this year, $123,986,452 40, an increase of $61,263,450 09.

The deposits in the national banks in 1896 were $96,450,353 92, and on the same day in 1900, $160,615,611 88, making an increase of $64,065,257 96.

The total deposits in all the banks of Ohio in May of this year were $284,502,064 34, an increase of $125,328,708 05.

It is in the state banks that the people of small means deposit their savings, and in the past four years these institutions show an increase in deposits of 50 per cent.

HIS FAREWELL.

Rev. B. M. Carson Preached His Farewell Sermon to His Congregation Last Night.

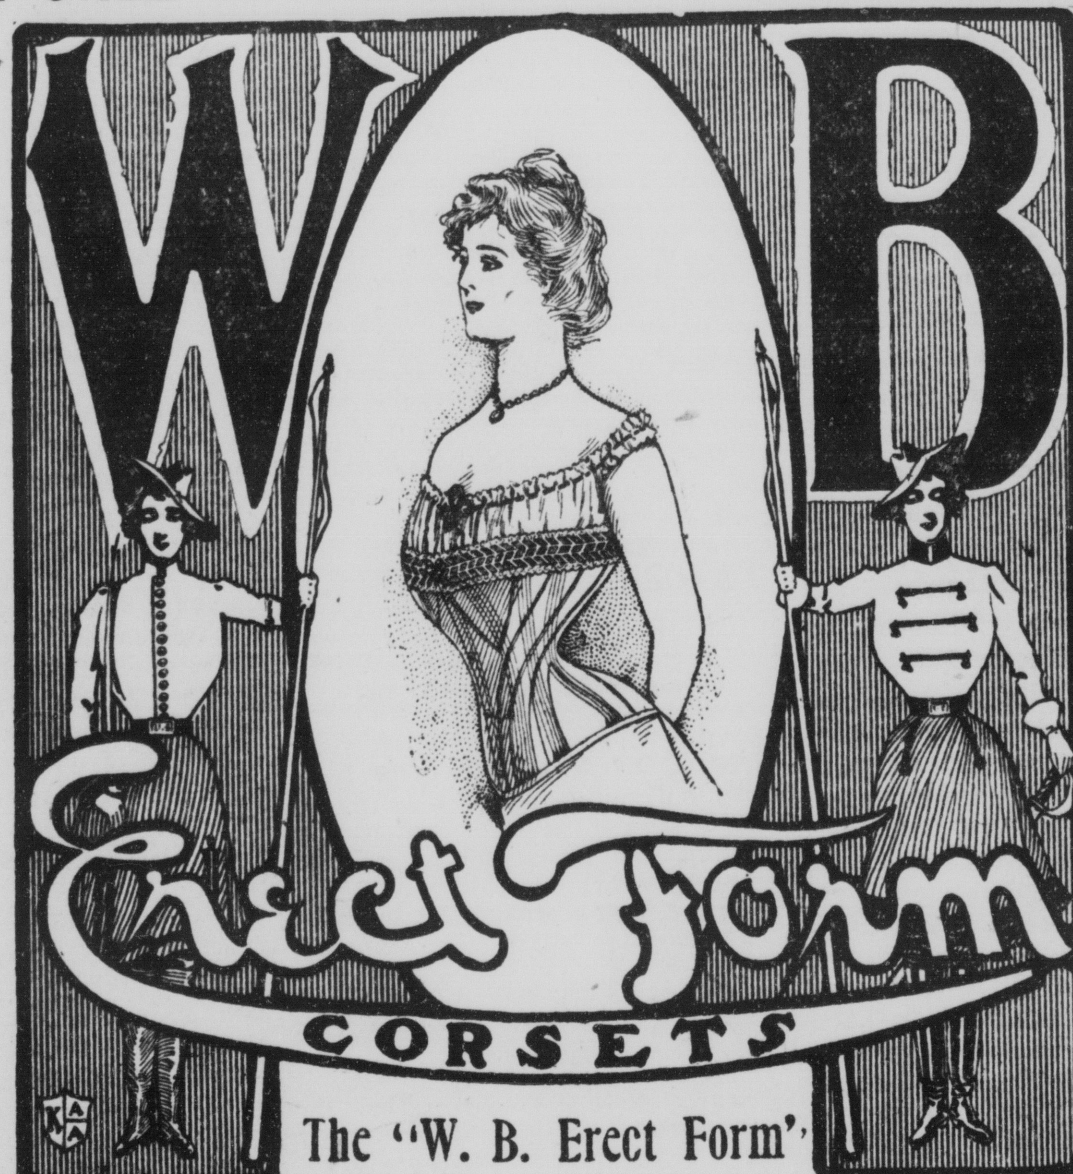

Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor of the African M. E. church, last evening preached his farewell sermon in this city and will leave Wednesday for his new charge at Urbana, Ohio. He took his text from Deuteronomy, "Keep, therefore, the words of this covenant, and do them that ye may prosper in all that ye do."

Rev. Carson leaves the city with the deepest regret and thanks the people of this city for the Christian treatment he has received at their hands.

Star Bargain Store.

A SALE OF CORSETS AND UNDERWEAR.

Corset gives a long, low and full effect from shoulder to bust. It is the only correct model for the new straight-front styles in costumes. It is a health corset. It is a surpassingly beautiful corset. It throws the shoulders back into a fine military poise. It inflicts no strain upon bust or abdomen and thus does away with those faults of corset construction which often leads to indigestion, short-breathing and sometimes even more serious troubles. The "Erect Form" does not strain the figure—all the pressure of lacing is upon the hips and back muscles which are most capable of sustaining it.

We carry it in drab and white and the price is only $1. We also carry the new W. B. real short waist corset, which is the best short corset in the market, and its price is $1. W. B. medium waist and W. B. high bust corsets for 98c.

We carry the best and largest line of corsets in the city, and our sales in that department is increasing all the time.

We have the celebrated W. B. Corsets in all the styles mentioned above. R. & G. corsets in short, medium and long waist. The famous Kabo corsets, high bust, short hip in high and low bust. Dr. Balls, a very easy corset. Dr. Warner's health. Ferris and Jackson waist. In popular priced corsets we carry more than any two stores in town combined.

High bust corsets with shoulder straps, worth 75c, for 49c.

Medium waist, fancy trimmed, and real short waist corsets, trimmed in lace, 75c values, our price 50c.

Good corsets, 50c values, for 35c, and a fair corset for 25c.

Ferris waists for misses and children.

The total of the capital and earnings of the banks is $62,128,039.

The board placed the value of the national banks at 37,638,230 for taxation, an increase of $2,200,006.

The state banks made an equally good showing. The increase in number was 16; in capital stock, $1,925,982, and in surplus and undivided profits, $654,058, making a total increase in the working capital of $2,579,840.

The total of the capital and earnings of these banks is $18,603,494.

The value for taxation as returned by the board is $11,042,361, an increase of $1,536,760.

The board makes no record of deposits, but Bank Clerk Taylor of the office of the auditor of state has compiled a table which shows the increase in the past four years. The figures are for the same days in May of 1896 and May, 1900:

The total deposits in the state banks in 1896 were $62,732,002 37; on the same day this year, $123,986,452 40, an increase of $61,263,450 09.

The deposits in the national banks in 1896 were $96,450,353 92, and on the same day in 1900, $160,615,611 88, making an increase of $64,065,257 96.

The total deposits in all the banks of Ohio in May of this year were $284,502,064 34, an increase of $125,328,708 05.

It is in the state banks that the people of small means deposit their savings, and in the past four years these institutions show an increase in deposits of 50 per cent.

HIS FAREWELL.

Rev. B. M. Carson Preached His Farewell Sermon to His Congregation Last Night.

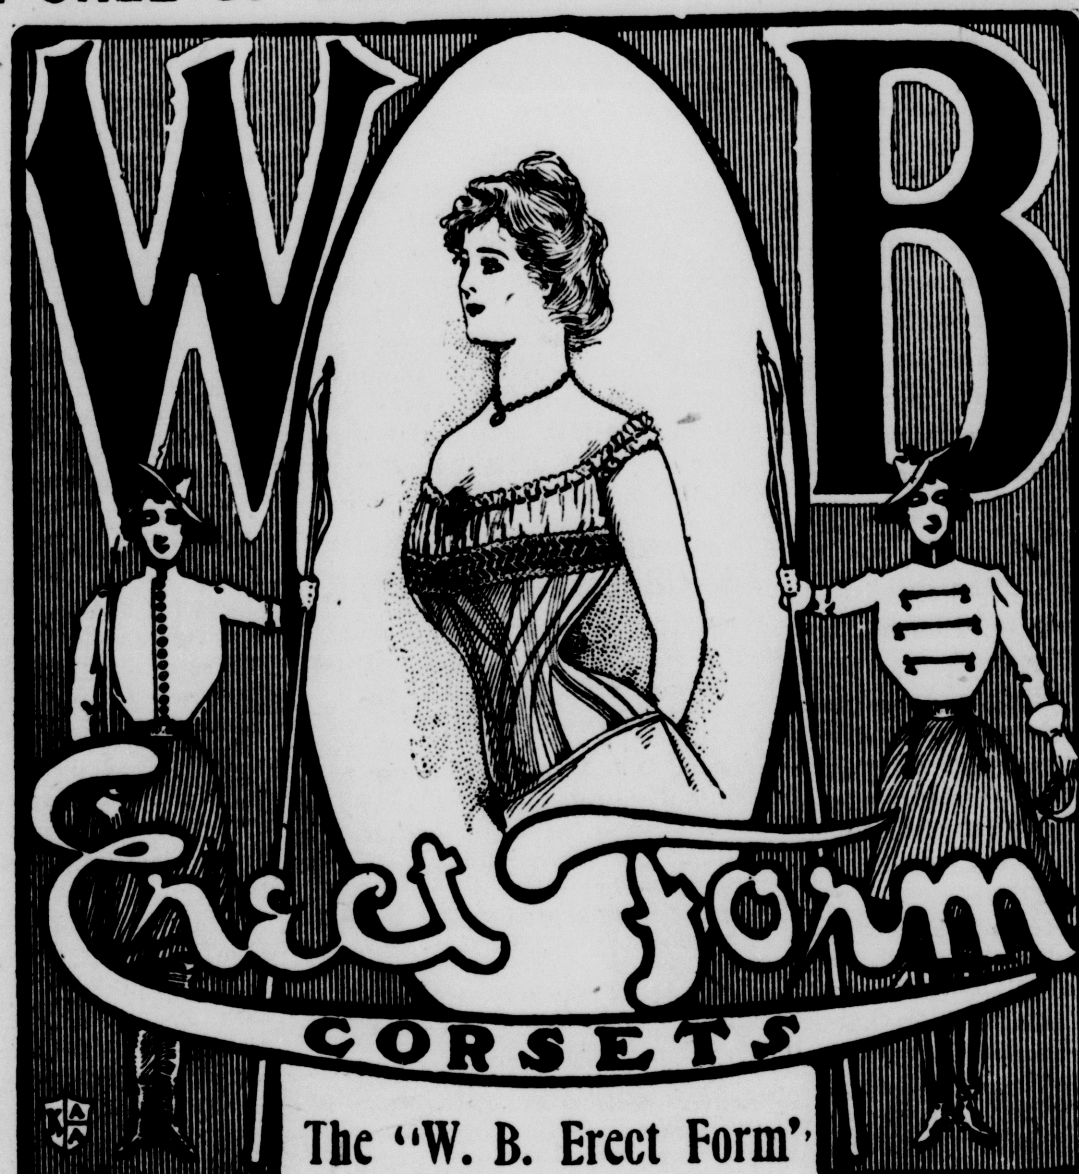

Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor of the African M. E. church, last evening preached his farewell sermon in this city and will leave Wednesday for his new charge at Urbana, Ohio. He took his text from Deuteronomy, "Keep, therefore, the words of this covenant, and do them that ye may prosper in all that ye do."

Rev. Carson leaves the city with the deepest regret and thanks the people of this city for the Christian treatment he has received at their hands.

Star Bargain Store.

A SALE OF CORSETS AND UNDERWEAR.

Corset gives a long, low and full effect from shoulder to bust. It is the only correct model for the new straight-front styles in costumes. It is a health corset. It is a surpassingly beautiful corset. It throws the shoulders back into a fine military poise. It inflicts no strain upon bust or abdomen and thus does away with those faults of corset construction which often leads to indigestion, short-breathing and sometimes even more serious troubles. The "Erect Form" does not strain the figure—all the pressure of lacing is upon the hips and back muscles which are most capable of sustaining it.

We carry it in drab and white and the price is only $1. We also carry the new W. B. real short waist corset, which is the best short corset in the market, and its price is $1. W. B. medium waist and W. B. high bust corsets for 98c.

We carry the best and largest line of corsets in the city, and our sales in that department is increasing all the time.

We have the celebrated W. B. Corsets in all the styles mentioned above. R. & G. corsets in short, medium and long waist. The famous Kabo corsets, high bust, short hip in high and low bust. Dr. Balls, a very easy corset. Dr. Warner's health. Ferris and Jackson waist. In popular priced corsets we carry more than any two stores in town combined.

High bust corsets with shoulder straps, worth 75c, for 49c.

Medium waist, fancy trimmed, and real short waist corsets, trimmed in lace, 75c values, our price 50c.

Good corsets, 50c values, for 35c, and a fair corset for 25c.

Ferris waists for misses and children.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 108.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1900.

TWO CENTS

POLICE TOOK A MIDNIGHT JAUNT

A Tour of the River Potteries and River Front Was Made In Order

TO FIND ALL THE SLEEPERS

Search Was Rewarded by Two Victims Who Were In Murphy's Packing Shed.

MORRISON LOST SOME MONEY

There were about the usual number of drunks on the streets Saturday night and Sunday, but somehow the booze was not of the fighting kind, and the city was unusually quiet.

Officer Gill and Special Stafford were patrolling Fourth street when they came across Thomas Morrison, a section foreman, who was drunk. He was taken to jail and may do a turn on the streets. Morrison was ill all day Sunday, and in the evening Chief Thompson allowed him to go to his boarding house, where it was thought, he would rest easier.

Morrison came back to city hall last night and spent the night in jail. He says he was touched for $26 and a railroad ticket to Pittsburg. He says he was with two men at the depot and thinks that they probably made away with the cash. He says he knows one of the parties.

W. H. Schriver had a jag on this morning and was making himself obnoxious at the station. The patrol was called and Officer Wood conveyed him to the city jail.

Last night about midnight Chief Thompson decided to have a general cleaning up. He gathered his staff of officers about him, secured lanterns and the party then started out to make a tour of the river potteries and river fronts. The potteries were closely inspected and so were the willows. When the Murphy pottery was reached Joe Horner and James McCoy were found sleeping in the packing shed. They were taken to city hall and are now waiting for a hearing.

Reese and Farmer are all that are left of the street force and they will soon have discharged their obligation to the city.

They were turned out for a little exercise yesterday afternoon, and were gone all afternoon. They returned in time for supper.

A VISITOR.

Local Salvationists Will Have Adjutant Lee With Them Two Evenings This Week.

Adjutant Leigh, of Cleveland, who is traveling in the interest of the children, is coming to visit the local Salvation Army corps Thursday and Friday.

The Juniors will take a prominent part in the adjutant's meetings, and an interesting time is looked forward to by local Salvationists.

MINISTERS MET.

Some Preachers Were Not Present, And Still There is No Census Report.

The meeting of the ministers held at the Methodist Protestant church this morning was attended by Dr. Crawford, Dr. Taggart and Rev. Gorrill.

Owing to the absence of the other ministers no report could be given out. The ministers of the various churches in the city would like to state to the people not identified with any church that their doors are open, their seats are free and a cordial invitation is extended to them to attend the services.

THE TRUE STORY.

GEORGE GASTON, OF THIS CITY, WAS OVERCOME BY HEAT.

He Started Out With Dr. Mateer And Lost His Way, Returning to Wooster.

The story in regard to George Gaston, of this city, wandering away from the home of his son-in-law in Wooster has just been straightened out.

It seems that one morning Mr. Gaston, accompanied by his son-in-law, Dr. Mateer went to visit a patient a half-mile from Wooster. When they arrived at the house the physician found that he would have to go about four miles farther back and Mr. Gaston decided he would walk back to Wooster.

In going back he lost the road and after going several miles he entered a farm house, and with the words, "I am George Gaston, of East Liverpool," keeled over. His people, of course, were very anxious about him and started to search and succeeded in locating him in a short time. He remained unconscious for over 24 hours. It was a very warm day and the heat was too much for him. He will be brought home as soon as he is able to travel.

MRS. T. M. BENNETT SEVERELY INJURED

She Was Thrown from a Delivery Wagon Late Saturday Night.

Mrs. T. M. Bennett met with an accident Saturday night about 10 o'clock.

Will George, who drives the delivery wagon, had some orders to deliver on Grant street, but didn't know where the people lived. Mrs. Bennett said she would go with him and show him the houses. The goods were delivered and George started to turn around in Green lane, when the wagon commenced to slide and scared the horses. They started to run and upset the wagon, throwing both occupants out.

Mrs. Bennett was found to be severely injured. The ambulance was called and she was taken to her home on Washington street and Drs. Sloan and Laughlin were called.

An examination showed that Mrs. Bennett had suffered a dislocated shoulder, ligaments of the arm torn loose, left ribs broken and her forehead crushed. Her eyes are swelled so today that she is unable to see.

ADDITIONAL JURORS

Have Been Ordered to Report for Duty When Court Opens Tomorrow.

Lisbon, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The following additional jurors have been ordered to report for duty tomorrow when court opens at 10 o'clock:

Oliver Burford and John W. Hall, East Liverpool; John Ertzinger, Columbiana; John M. Johnson, Lisbon; William Joseph, Inverness.

INJURED IN A FOOTBALL GAME

Johnson Was Playing With a West End Team Against the Diamond Indians.

SHOULDER BLADE WAS BROKEN

Taken to a Physician Where the Fracture Was Reduced but He Will Not

PLAY AGAIN FOR SOME TIME

The second foot ball accident of the season in this city has been recorded, and this time the victim is Charles Johnson.

Johnson is a member of the West End eleven and was in the game Saturday against the Diamond Indians, Jr. He was playing a good game when he got into a skirmish. When play was called Johnson didn't get up and the players were not long in discovering that he was hurt.

He was taken to Dr. Rose Hathaway, where it was ascertained that his shoulder blade had been broken. The fracture was reduced at once.

The young man is resting as easily as could be expected today, but it will be some time before he again plays foot ball.

CONGREGATION DID NOT LIKE REV. M'KEE'S TALK

Some members of the Second Presbyterian church, of Wellsville, were very indignant over the remarks made by Rev. C. L. V. McKee in his speech in this city week before last.

They did not desire to stir up trouble in the church and therefore did not attend the divine services at their church, preferring to stay away.

The matter, however, became so general that yesterday afternoon a meeting of the trustees and session of the church was held and an informal talk was had; the pastor being absent. They adjourned to meet after church in the evening and at the same time they elected P. H. White chairman.

The pastor was present on this occasion and he was asked if he had made use of the language he was credited with on the occasion of his speech in this city.

He assumed an evasive attitude, claiming that the Wellsville Union had not quoted him correctly. He then said he didn't think the parties present had any jurisdiction, as it was not a legal meeting, as they had no moderator. He wanted to know at the meeting whether it was for war or for peace, and received the reply that it was for peace. They were unable at any time throughout the meeting to get a direct answer from the pastor, and J. A. Joseph finally asked him for an answer, and stated the evasion made him tired and picked up his hat and left the meeting.

Last July the pastor preached a sermon on expansion that did not meet with the views of his congregation, and his remarks in this city did not tend to pour oil on the troubled waters. How it will end no person knows.

Aged Resident Dead.

USED A KNIFE.

NIP HAMILTON CUT JOHN AMMON IN THE ARM.

Complaint Was Entered in the Court of Squire McLane And Hamilton Was Fined.

Nip Hamilton and John Ammon had an altercation at Walker's on Saturday night and Hamilton cut Ammon on the arm with a pen knife. It was not a bad cut, but Ammon came to the city and entered a charge of assault in the court of Squire McLane. Constable Miller arrested Hamilton yesterday and he put up security for his appearance this morning.

When he arrived this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge, but upon his statement to the court he was let off with the minimum fine of $1 and costs.

SATURDAY EXCURSIONS.

Merchants and Manufacturers Protesting Against the Excursions On This Day.

The pencil shaver has been interviewed by quite a number of our prominent merchants today, and they universally protest against Saturday excursions, given under the jurisdiction of local lodges or organizations, and they state that the same complaint comes from a number of prominent manufacturers and pottery owners. They state that these Saturday excursions are an injustice to business interests of every character in East Liverpool, and that they believe that the members of the various lodges, lovers of fair play and justice, will admit this to be the truth when it is considered from all standpoints. Labor leaders have also been consulted respecting this matter, one prominent leader asserting that the labor organizations will look at the matter in the same light as the merchants.

WE LOST

The Monessen (Pa.) Foot Ball Eleven Was Too Heavy for the National Guard Team.

The National Guard foot ball eleven went to Monessen, Pa., on Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the local team by the score of 6 to 0.

The National Guard boys have reason to be proud of the stand they made against Monessen, as they were much lighter and only managed to keep the score down by scientific playing.

York and Heckathorne were hurt in the first half and had to retire, while Hester nurses a very sore shoulder.

CUT HIS HEAD

W. H. Schriver Took a Header on the C. & P. Tracks This Morning.

W. H. Schriver, who was arrested at the station this morning, came near being seriously injured. Conductor Pat Duffy took him from the train and they both fell to the platform. He was placed on his feet and then staggered onto the track, cutting a gash in his head. He was then carried and put again the fence and the patrol called.

DIED AT BALTIMORE.

Sad News of the Death of Bernard Erlanger Reached Here Yesterday.

Word was received in the city yesterday afternoon of the death of Bernard Erlanger, father of Myer Erlanger, at Baltimore, from an operation.

He is a brother of William Erlanger, who left for that place last night. Myer Erlanger has been with his father since Wednesday.

ASSOCIATION GAME.

Rovers and Buckeyes Kicked the Foot Ball at Rock Springs Saturday Afternoon.

A very interesting practice game of foot ball was played Saturday between the Rovers and Buckeyes, two local clubs.

The Rovers proved altogether too strong for their opponents, and won the contest by a score of 5 to 0.

The National Social club will on Thursday evening hold a private dance at their rooms in the First National bank building.

BILL BRYAN'S OWN TRUST

He Bitterly Denounces Monopolies
Held By Any of Our Good Citizens.

BUT USES THE LAW FOR

The Protection of His Own Private
Book Trust and Makes a Fortune.

WHAT DOES THE MAN MEAN

Here is good reading for the fair and square voters of East Liverpool and Columbiana county, and for the country at large. William Jennings Bryan is a very peculiar combination and a very unsafe man to occupy any position of trust. He is certainly unfit to be the president of the United States, and we have resolved that he cannot have the berth.

In his speech before the Chicago conference on trusts, Sept. 16, 1899, William Jennings Bryan said:

"One trust magnate may be more benevolent than another, but there is no good monopoly in private hands, and I do not believe it is safe for any man or group of men to monopolize any article of merchandise, or any branch of industry."

Rather broad statement that. Mr. Bryan is much given to radical statements, but one would have thought he would have stopped short of denouncing any monopoly of "any article of merchandise."

It is over a year since Bryan made that speech denouncing each and every monopoly, but he is repeating the same doctrine today. Oct. 10 he asked in his speech at Nashville, Michigan:

"Do you know of any good monopoly in private hands? Do you know of any person good enough to stand at the head of any monopoly, and determine the price of that which others are to use?"

Well, there is a certain book known as "The First Battle," which is an article of merchandise, and an absolute monopoly in W. J. Bryan's hands. Quite an expensive one, indeed, to many poor men, who have felt that they must have it. On the reverse side of the title page of that interesting work we read:

Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1896, by William J. Bryan. In the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D. C. All rights reserved.

On the next page is a warning by the publishers against any "fraudulent imitations."

And there you are.

This is the absolute, law-protected monopoly which in four years has made William J. Bryan a rich man.

If it were not for Bryan's absolute monopoly of the book, farmers, workmen and the horny-handed sons of toil in general could have secured the work for one-third or even a quarter of what they have had to pay for it.

No honest man will deny Mr. Bryan's right to his book, or his privilege to make what he can out of it. It has always been the policy of this country to respect the rights of authors, and to give them a monopoly, or, as the law put it, "an exclusive right" to their works.

The wrong is that a man enjoying this special protection, and getting rich by making poor men pay a higher price than he could get under the free printing of his book—and free trading in it—should in his selfishness declare that other people shall enjoy no such privilege, but have every vestige of protection taken away from them.

A fine man that to set up as an instructor for the liberal hearted, protection favoring people of America! Would Bryan destroy all patents too? They are monopolies, one and all, like his copyright.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Local Branch of the W. F. M. Society of the M. E. Church Returns Thanks.

The local branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church desires to return thanks to any and every person who in any way or manner assisted in making the late convention, held in the First M. E. church of East Liverpool, such a complete and gratifying success. Great good was surely accomplished at this convention, and the workers in the society have been given fresh courage for the work yet to be done in the vineyard of the Master. Our heavenly Father will reward His workers in due time. We take pleasure in returning warm thanks to the management of the Bell Telephone company for their kindness in furnishing the convention with splendid service, free of charge. This service aided our members in their work very materially.

Respectfully,

MRS. WM. WELSH,
President.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. Charles G. Jordan Preached to Two Very Large Audiences.

The services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday were very largely attended. The pastor, Rev. C. G. Jordan, in the morning delivered a masterly sermon on "Paul's Theme." In the evening the edifice was packed. He took for his subject, "The Hidden Talent."

Before the sermon he uttered a very fervent prayer that war might cease in the world. He took for his text Matt. 25, 28-30.

He opened his sermon by stating that no person knew where heaven was, the conditions of it or who would be there. He spoke of the five, two and one talent men and said it was the duty of every one to add mentally, spiritually and materially to the talent God had given them. He spoke of the fact that all could not be five talent men and said if Grant had not had back of him 100,000 one and two talent men the union would never have been saved. He urged all with little gifts to plunge into the fight and do something, and said if the talent God had given was not used in the proper way it would soon pass out of the grip. He said the getting of money was the duty of every person, as a man, as a citizen, as money was the greatest power the church had. He said it could be misused, but so could everything else. He spoke of how Ingersoll misused his eloquence and oratory. He then said money was the greatest thing in the hands of the church, as it was back of the school houses, the teachers and the pupils. The more a man had the more he could give, and he spoke of how badly money was needed to carry on the mission work, both in this country and abroad.

He spoke of ambition and said it was a good thing. He compared Spurgeon and Napoleon and said the ambition of Spurgeon was to convert the world for righteousness, but that his ambition caused no bleeding hearts.

He closed his sermon with an earnest appeal that all would use the talent God had given them.

John R. Stoddard, assisted by the choir, rendered a very pretty selection.

NO. 655.

AN ORDINANCE to improve Rural Lane from Jackson Street to the west line of Lot No. 504.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, as follows: SECTION 1. That the improvement from Rural Lane to the west line of lot No. 504 be proceeded with in accordance with the Resolution to improve the said alley, passed the 20th day of August, A. D. 1900, and the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Engineer and under his supervision and instructions, doing all necessary grading and paving with the best quality of paving bricks set on edge.

SECTION 2. That the cost and expense of the said improvement, except so much thereof as the law requires to be placed on the general tax list, shall be levied and assessed on the lots and land abutting and bounding on the said alley, between the points above named, in accordance with the law and ordinance on the subject of assessments; the assessments therefor will be collected in five annual installments if deferred, and the same collected as provided by law and in the assessing ordinance hereafter to be passed. Bonds will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the said assessments unless the property owners pay their assessments before the bonds are issued and within the time prescribed in the assessing ordinance. The following property will be assessed for the cost and expense of the said improvement: Lot No. 2671; lot No. 2672; lot No. 2673; lot No. 2674; lot No. 2675; lot No. 2677; lot No. 2678; lot No. 2679; lot No. 2680; lot No. 2681; lot No. 433; lot No. 2693; lot No. 2695; lot No. 2694; lot No. 2693; lot No. 2692; lot No. 2691; lot No. 2690; lot No. 2689a; lot No. 2689; lot No. 2688; lot No. 2687; lot No. 504.

SECTION 3. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and legal publication.

INGERSOLL ON ALCOHOLISM

Here Stare You In the Face Some Exceedingly Startling Truths.

CRIME OF THE CENTURY

The Nation Must Destroy It or It Will Destroy the Nation.

BURNING, ELOQUENT WORDS

East Liverpool lovers of clean life and haters of the liquor traffic, men and women who have resolved to devote your life to the downfall of "the crime of the century," read the following burning words of Robert Ingersoll. They are words of truth and should be treasured up in your mind:

"I am aware that there is a prejudice against any man in the manufacture of alcohol. I believe that from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm in the distillery until it empties into the hell of death, dishonor and crime, it demoralizes everybody that touches it, from its source to where it ends. I do not believe anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against the liquor crime.

"All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the wrecks on either bank of the stream of death; of the suicides, of the insanity, of the poverty, of the ignorance, of the destruction, of the little children tugging at the faded, weary breasts of weeping and despairing wives, asking for bread, of the talented men of genius it has wrecked, the men struggling with imaginary serpents, produced by this devilish thing; and when you think of the jails, the alms houses, of the asylums, of the prisons, of the scaffolds upon either bank, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against this stuff called alcohol.

"Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength, and old age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart, bereaves the doting mother, extinguishes natural affections, erases conjugal loves, blots out filial attachments, blights parental hope, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sickness, not health; death, not life. It makes wives widows, children orphans, fathers fiends, and all of them paupers and beggars.

"It feeds rheumatism, nurses gout, welcomes epidemics, invites cholera, imports pestilence, and embraces consumption. It covers the land with idleness, misery and crime. It fills your jails, supplies your alms houses and demands your asylums. It engenders controversies, fosters quarrels and cherishes riots. It crowds your penitentiaries and furnishes victims to your scaffolds. It is the life blood of the gambler, the element of the burglar, the property of the highwayman, and the support of the midnight incendiary. It countenances the liar, respects the thief, esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligations, reverences fraud and honors infamy. It defames benevolence, hates love, scorns virtue and slanders innocence. It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring, helps the husband massacre his wife, and the child to grind the patricidal axe.

"It burns up men, consumes women, detests life, curses God and despises heaven. It suborns witnesses, nurses perjury, defiles the jury box and stains the judicial ermine. It degrades the citizen, debases the legislator, dishonors statesmen and disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; and with the malevolence of a fiend, it calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and, unsatisfied with its havoc, it poisons felicity, kills peace, ruins morals, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honors, then curses the world and laughs at its ruin.

"It does all that and more—it murders the soul. It is the son of villainies, the father of all crimes, the mother of abomination, the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy.

DEADLY CIGARETTES.

A Famous Educator Tells How the Fool Boys Are Killed Off.

And we have a number of this same class of youngsters in East Liverpool, boys scarcely out of baby clothes, who will puff cigarette smoke in your face and imagine they will soon be men. And these foolish little boys are encouraged by boys of larger growth, coming up into young manhood, and who are about as near gone to the bad as is the rum soaked drunkard. Read what this prominent educator says about boys who have formed the cigarette habit:

David Starr Jordan, president of one of the wealthiest universities on the continent is also one of the leading scientists of this country. He says that boys who have formed the cigarette habit are like like wormy apples—they drop long before the harvest time. They rarely make failures in after life, because they do not have any after life. The boy who begins smoking cigarettes before his fifteenth year never enters the life of the world. When other boys are taking hold of the world's work he is concerned with the sexton and the undertaker.

HE WAS DRUNK.

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Disgusted Pedestrians With His Actions Saturday Night.

One of the notable occurrences witnessed Saturday night was that of a boy not more than 16 years of age, who was so drunk on Sixth street that he could scarcely walk. He first made his appearance at about 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost midnight disgusted the passers-by with his unnatural profanity and vile talk. At a late hour some of his friends, who had been notified of his actions, took him home.

An effort should be made to find where the boy got his liquor and the saloon keeper that sold it to him should suffer to the full extent of the law.

DIPHTHERIA.

A Case Was Reported to the Health Authorities Saturday Night.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn, of Third street, is afflicted with diphtheria. The little one had been ill for several days and on Saturday night Dr. Hobbs, the attending physician, pronounced the affliction diphtheria. The health authorities were at once notified, and Officer Burgess placed the quarantine.

The family had a number of boarders, who were compelled to look up other quarters in a hurry.

A BIG SCORE.

Junior Diamond Indians Defeated the West End Beasts Saturday Afternoon.

The aggregation of juvenile football players known as the Diamond Indians, Jr., defeated the West End Beasts on Brunt's Saturday afternoon by a score of 24 to 6.

The feature of the game was the team work of the juniors, none of whom weigh more than 105 pounds. Their opponents averaged several pounds heavier, but lacked the coach.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

BRYAN'S OWN TRUST.

Read article very carefully in another column under head of "Bill Bryan's Own Trust." It shows the absolute inconsistency of Bryan's cry against all trust and all monopolies. Is William Jennings Bryan worthy of the trust of any voter under such circumstances? Out of his own mouth he condemns himself. Read the article.

FREE SILVER.

China is a free silver country. Millions of her population live in boats and subsist upon such diet as rats, rice and fish. Bryan would like the American mechanics and workingman to follow suit; but the American masses are not built after the fashion of the Chinese. Our boys think and act for themselves and vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, good wages, good times and the gold basis.

BISHOP THOBURN.

Bishop Thoburn, a strong and true man, advocating that only which he believes to be right, as leaders of Methodism well know, is an earnest advocate of the retention of the Philippine islands by the United States, not only as a good feature for the United States, but as a grand feature for the Philippines. And Bishop Thoburn knows what he is talking about, as he has personally visited the islands and made them a study.

THE BLACK MAN.

The south has already disfranchised, as far as it can legally do so, the black men of that section. Cockran and other prominent Democrats in New York and other northern states favor the repeal of the fifteenth amendment. Democracy stands out boldly against the black man and his rights, and has always done so. The Republican party, from Lincoln down, has been the black man's friend. McKinley has stood by the colored race nobly. Roosevelt praises the black man and terms him a gallant and brave soldier. Teddy says: "The Afro-American soldier has the faculty of coming to the front when he is needed most." Read the article in another column headed "Our Black Men."

THE SALOON.

Are you doing your duty against the saloons of East Liverpool? Do you believe your business, as conducted by you, is aiding and assisting in the maintenance and life of the saloon in this municipality? Are you helping the saloon in any manner, directly or indirectly? Be honest in your verdict. Don't hedge. Don't dodge the issue. Don't be cowardly. Face the music. Don't beat about the bush and talk about the army canteen. The "canteen" sells nothing but beer and light wines. The saloon sells anything and everything which will intoxicate. You can drive the saloon out of East Liverpool if you will. You have no army canteen here. You have the saloon. Is it a blessing or a curse? If a blessing, then sustain and culture and protect it. If a curse, then drive it out. No sane man desires to be cursed. The saloon power in East Liverpool is a peculiar bogle, fashioned after the manner and on the principle of the Chinese dragon; an awful thing to look upon; a hideous monster; a fearful thing; an ugly creation; something which you fear to attack; something which endeavors to create the impression that it will annihilate you and wipe you out of existence if you madden it or interfere with it in any manner; but which, like the dragon, ceases to be a terror when you face it boldly and courageously, and which sneaks away into the shadow of its own evil self when the day of stern battle opens. Face the monster boldly, true men and women of East Liverpool. Face the saloon devil and bid him open defiance. Face the devil, in the name of God and our common humanity, and victory will surely perch upon your banners. The saloon dragon has twice insulted the decent citizens of late; first in the farce called an election, which every man of common sense knows did not express the will of the majority of the voters in this city; and secondly in the "Brewery Parade," adding insult to injury. Don't let the dragon add the third insult. Let us prepare for him aright, and the next time he dares to make his hideous presence known, let us be past masters in political dentistry, pull the monster's teeth and extract his venomous sting. And may our God speed the day of the death of the saloon dragon in this great nation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hill and Mrs. Jacob Hill and daughter, of Canal Dover, spent the day in Pittsburg.

OUR BRAVE BLACK MEN

Teddy Roosevelt Lauds the Gallant
Afro-American Soldiers of the Nation.

THEY ARE GRAND FIGHTERS

Democratic Falsifiers and Stay-At-
Homes Trying to Malign
"Our Teddy."

OWES HIS LIFE TO BLACK MEN

Governor Theodore Roosevelt has explained to a reporter his reported antipathy to the Afro-American soldier. In Scribner's Magazine for April, 1899, there appeared an article by Mr. Roosevelt, which the Democrats assert reflected upon the bravery of the Afro-American soldier. This article has been used as a campaign document and has been widely circulated among the Afro-American people of the country. "The Democrats have attempted to make a mountain out of a mole hill," said Governor Roosevelt. "In the article referred to I made mention of an incident:

Case of a Captain's Order.

"I had orders to hold a certain position and was supported by the Tenth cavalry (Afro-American.) The position was uncertain and we needed every man available to make the stand. Two or three of the Afro-American soldiers started to the rear in search of water, as ordered by their captain. I rebuked the captain for lessening our force, and commanded the men to remain. The statement I made after that, so near as I can remember, was: 'I have orders to hold this hill, and I intend to do it. I will shoot any man that gives up this position.'"

"This is the whole story in a nutshell, and the efforts of the Democrats to make political capital out of the simple incident shows what small campaign methods they are capable of using.

Praises Black Men's Bravery.

"My position with the Afro-American people is too well known for these political tricksters to undermine it. I would be the last man in the world to say anything against the Afro-American soldier, because I know of his bravery and his character. He saved my life at Santiago, and I have had occasion to say so in many articles and speeches. The Rough Riders were in a bad position when the Ninth and Tenth cavalry came rushing up the hill, carrying everything before them.

"The Afro-American soldier has the faculty of coming to the front when he is needed most. In the civil war he came 400,000 strong, and I believe he saved the union. He has done excellent work in all of the Indian campaigns, and while I was in the west I had a number of opportunities of witnessing his wonderful work. He saved a massacre of the Seventh in 1890.

Their Help at San Juan Hill.

At San Juan hill the Afro-American soldiers rendered an object lesson to all of the soldiers assembled there. They sung and fought and pushed the laggard troopers up the hill and the great victory at that point was theirs as much if not more than any of the soldiers there.

"The Afro-American man can vote for whom he pleases. He can follow the dictates of his own conscience. That is why he has the franchise, to exercise it, and use it for his best advantage and the advantage of his country, which he has served so honorably with his sword, but I take great pleasure in saying that he is a first-class fighting man."

NEW MEMBERS

Fourteen Persons United With the Second Presbyterian Church Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday morning communion services were engaged at the Second Presbyterian church and 14 new members were received into the fellowship of the church.

The morning and evening services were very largely attended and were interesting.

At the Christian Endeavor meeting Prof. Rayman delivered an instructive and interesting address.

The church has been beautified by two every elegant chandeliers, which were placed in position on Saturday.

WANTED TO FIGHT.

Two East End Young Men Made a Display of Themselves in a Street Car.

Two East End young men, who were under the influence of liquor, had some words on a street car Saturday night, and when they got almost home they got off the car for the purpose of settling their differences. The friends of the young men succeeded in getting the matter settled without any blows being struck.

EIGHT NEW KILNS

The Capacity of the Laughlin No. 2 Pottery Will Just be Doubled.

As stated in these columns several months ago the Laughlin China company will double the capacity of their No. 2 plant and will erect eight new kilns at the northeast end of the present pottery.

The contract has been awarded to Harvey McHenry.

THE KNIFE SLIPPED

Fireman Terrence Cut a Bad Gash in His Big Toe While Cutting Cababges.

Fireman Terrence was cutting cababges in the lot adjoining the fire station last Saturday, when he struck an extra tough one and his penknife slipped and struck his left foot right at the joint of the big toe. He did not pay much attention to the wound until several hours later and today he walks with difficulty.

A HORNETS' NEST.

Reed McClure Stirred One Up And Immediately Got Himself Into Trouble.

Reed McClure, of Dixonville, went up into his hay mow yesterday, and while there stirred up a hornets' nest. The hornets seemed to all settle on his upper lip, and when he succeeded in getting away his face closely resembled a patent bucket.

NO BOYS

An East End Jiggerman is Compelled to Resign And Go to Batting Out.

There is a scarcity of boys in East End and a jiggerman who has enough boys to do his work is exceedingly fortunate. James Clifford is a jiggerman at the East End pottery, and owing to the fact that he could not get boys he was compelled to resign his position and accept one at batting out.

A new line of Potters' Sponges just received at East End Pharmacy.

East End Notes.

The Pennsylvania squirrel and bird law came in today and a large number of East End hunters took to the woods this morning. George Snowden is among the number.

James Dorff has returned to his work as a jiggerman at the Klondike after an illness of several weeks.

The clay shops of the Klondike were idle Saturday afternoon on account of the Pittsburg excursion.

The little Lawson girl that was struck by a street car Saturday, is now on a fair way to recovery, as no blood clots have formed.

George Bebee, who had his shoulder dislocated in an accident at the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery about ten weeks ago, is still unable to go to work.

The Nelson building that is being removed from one lot to another, has been in the hands of three contractors, and the third contractor began work this morning. The building is in such a dilapidated condition that it is a hard thing to move.

Mr. and Mrs. William Humes visited East End friends over Sunday. Mr. Humes returned to Sebring this morning, but his wife will remain one week.

W. C. Thompson, who conducted a dairy in East End for more than 15 years, has gone out of business.

SOUTH SIDE.

THE PLAINTIFF WON.

A Jury Heard the Case of Goppert Versus Goppert This Morning.

The case of Mrs. Adam Goppert versus her mother-in-law, which was brought to recover possession of a quantity of household furniture, was tried before a jury this morning in the court of Squire Johnson.

The jury was composed of Silas Hobbs, Alex Allison, Thompson Allison, James Schooler, Aaron Allison, Henry Logan, and the case was given to them at 11:40. They were just 20 minutes in arriving at a decision, which was in favor of the plaintiff.

Attorney F. E. Grosshans, attorney for defense, gave notice of appeal.

NOT A SUCCESS.

Pug Mill, Wad Mill and Sifter at the Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery Not Satisfactory.

Some of the new machinery placed in the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery is not proving a success and it is very likely it will have to be taken out. The machinery is the invention of Crossley, of Trenton, and was placed in position by him. The sifter, pug mill and wad mill have never worked satisfactory and it is only a question of a short time until they are removed and the old, tried machinery installed in place.

Jessie May Williams.

The 14-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, who reside on the Fairview road, died yesterday from cholera infantum. Funeral services were conducted at the home this morning, and at noon the body was taken to Wirt county, W. V., for interment.

The New Pastor Here.

Rev. Carnahan arrived in Chester Saturday. He is the new pastor of the Methodist church here, and will have charge of the Chester-Georgetown circuit in the future.

Remodeling the Building.

The proprietors of the Chester grocery are remodeling their store in order that it be made more comfortable during the winter season.

Secured Contracts.

Willis Kinsey, the plumber, who resides on Indiana avenue, has been given the contract for fitting up both potteries in Chester.

A Contractor in Chester.

Contractor Brown, whose firm has the contract for all the street paving in the upper part of Chester, was in town today.

A New Employee.

Paul McDowell, of Carrollton, arrived in Chester today and will be employed on the street improvements.

Will Put in Gas.

The Thompson building will be piped this week for the purpose of putting in gas.

In Chester on Business.

J. M. Taylor, a Wheeling traveling salesman, was in Chester on business today.

Personal.

John Shrader was in Cumberland today on business.

MAY CONFER TODAY.

Rumored Railroad Officials Will Consider Miners' Action.

OPERATORS MAY AWAIT DECISION.

This Believed to Account For Reticence of Individual Mine Owners at Hazleton—Wyoming, Scranton and Mt. Carmel Operators Opposed to Miners' Stand.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The individual coal operators who could be seen here declined to discuss the action taken by the anthracite miners' convention at Scranton, neither would they say what steps the employers would probably take.

It is believed from their reticence that the individual mine owners are waiting to see what the large coal-carrying roads that mine coal will do. It was said in the coal region last night that the presidents of these roads will hold a conference in New York today for discussion of the action of the convention.

There was a story afloat that the operators will accept the convention's decision, but nothing has come to the surface in this region on which to base the report.

The United Mine Workers' officials say they are now again waiting on the operators and that they will continue to close up the collieries that have been in operation since the strike began four weeks ago. There are many reports in circulation that if the strike continues much longer a break in the ranks of the idle men will occur.

President Mitchell and his associate officials, however, reassert their confidence that the men, both union and non-union, will remain away from the mines until after the strike is declared off. There is a fear prevalent in this region that if some of the men do return to work trouble would probably arise through the efforts of the strikers to persuade the men to remain on strike. All the collieries that are working still remain heavily guarded.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 15.—A canvass of the operators of the Wyoming valley shows that there is considerable opposition to granting the miners any more concessions than those outlined in the original offer, namely, 10 per cent increase without any conditions. The individual operators especially are opposed to tying themselves up to any agreement. One operator said the only way the strike can be settled is for the strikers to accept the 10 per cent without any provisions.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 15.—The terms of the Scranton convention are not acceptable to the operators and representatives of the coal-carrying companies in this place and Mt. Carmel. The Reading officials do not think the sliding scale will be abolished by the company, while operators are averse to signing a contract binding them to pay the 10 per cent in crease until April.

No orders have been received as yet from headquarters of any company to resume work today. Miners say they will not go to work until officially advised by President Mitchell.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The anthracite coal miners decided to accept the 10 per cent increase in wages offered by the mine owners, provided they will continue the payment of the advance until next April, and will abolish the sliding scale. If the operators consider the proposition unacceptable the miners are willing to arbitrate the question at issue. They also decided to continue the strike until the operators agree to the proposition.

OPERATORS CAN'T AGREE.

One of Them Said It Was Impossible. Declared Leaders Had Better Declare Strike Off.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 15.—In response to a request as to his views on the answer of the United Mine Workers to the operators' proposition, T. H. Watkins, president of the Temple Iron company, gave out a statement, saying in part:

"We will give our men reasonable time to return to work, trusting that they will see the mistake of being guided and influenced by men who, however honest and sincere they may be in their efforts to benefit the miners of the anthracite region, are unable to advise them intelligently and for their best good, because of their ignorance of the conditions controlling the trade.

"Mr. Mitchell apparently thinks that the control of mining operations rests in the hands of one or two persons, notably Mr. Morgan, or that there is a trust of some sort, which can decide the whole question, when as a matter of fact, there are only three or four of the transportation companies in which any one concern has any influence, and they do not represent 30 per cent of the whole anthracite tonnage. More than 100 different companies and individuals are interested in mining the total tonnage, and no one man can control or have the slightest influence over their action.

"The one thing the companies are apparently agreed upon and that is that they will not agree. Efforts have been made for years to get some plan to which all can agree to control the tonnage, so that fair prices can be secured for a product which requires so large an investment of money with such a great risk to the labor employed as well as the capital employed but effort after effort has failed through failure to agree on a plan that would not violate the laws and to which all would agree.

"But Mr. Mitchell comes here and says in effect, 'No matter how well you may treat your employees or how much you pay them or what agreements you may have with them, your men must not go to work until every operator does just exactly what the other one does, and that the Lehigh and Schuylkill men must have a new basis before the men in the Lackawanna and Wyoming regions can go to work.'

"There are some individual operators and some companies, who will lose their last dollar before they will enter into any agreement with other operators or will join in an arrangement to recognize the union, by agreeing to any arrangement Mr. Mitchell's organization dictates for a settlement of the strike.

"The leaders of the organization, I trust, will soon see their mistake in insisting upon any further action by the companies, and order the strike off. The companies and operators have given an advance they cannot afford unless they are able to get a better price for coal. Having given in they will all be compelled to make an earnest effort to secure better prices, and without a doubt, after the restriction, caused by the strike, can get better prices for some time to come, certainly until after April 1, in my opinion, so that the suspicion that the advance is only given to be taken back after election is unfair and unwise.

"The United Mine Workers will lay themselves open, if they have not already done so, to the charge of being the largest and most dangerous trust to the public welfare that has ever existed, and the organization will make the mistake of all others, that have failed by going too far and using its power to hurt the public as well as those directly interested.

"If the laws of the country would allow the operators to combine and pursue the same methods that this organization is pursuing, we could then discuss a plan to put the price of coal at such a figure as to pay any wages demanded by our employees. They do not, and that is not the solution of the present trouble."

Before giving out his statement, Mr. Watkins submitted it to various operators, among them Superintendent Lathrop, of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, at Wilkesbarre, and received his unanimous approval. The fact that J. P. Morgan & Co. are allied with the Temple Iron company, and that Mr. Watkins and Mr. Lathrop are chairmen of the operators' committees in their respective territory gives added importance to the statement.

ANTHRACITE TRADE INJURED.

Soft Coal Gaining Territory, Much of Which It May Retain.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The Ledger, in its coal article today, said: "The anthracite coal trade continues without change. Advancing prices are a consequence of the short supply, and, as a necessary result of the scarcity, bituminous coal is already making serious inroads upon the anthracite consumption field, and, as is usually the case, much of the captured territory will probably be retained after the termination of the strike. This is one of the important matters which are to be confronted as a consequence of the present high prices for anthracite coal, and it must have an effect upon the failure of that industry.

"While the convention of miners has met and the movement toward an adjustment may be regarded as begun, it is problematical when the differences can be satisfactorily adjusted and work resumed at the mines. There is an evident desire on the part of the miners to return to work at the 10 per cent advance offered by the operators, so that hopes are entertained of an adjustment of the other subjects of differences."

GOBIN AWAITS OPERATORS' ACTION.

Anxious to Send Them Home and Get Away.

Shenandoah, Oct. 15.—General Gobin is anxiously awaiting the verdict of the operators in regard to the terms of the settlement agreed upon at the Scranton convention. He is anxious to get away and to send the troops home, but the outbreaks at Oneida and Lattimer last week and the condition of affairs in the coal region causes him to hesitate and it is probable that there will be no movement of troops until it is known whether the proposed terms of agreement are acceptable to the operators. The camp of the Fourth regiment is built on a side hill, and during the heavy rainstorm Sunday morning the water flowed through the tents in streams, and the mess tents were blown down.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT LIKELY NEAR.

Hanna Says Advances Indicate Agreement in a Few Days.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Senator M. A. Hanna, when asked about his statement made during a political meeting at Forty-second and Sherman streets that the Pennsylvania miners' strike would come to an end Sunday, said:

"I do not profess prophetic insight into the strike situation in Pennsylvania; but the last news received from the center of disturbances is to the effect that a settlement is near. Advances received by business men coincide with this statement, and I am told a compromise of the difficulty is a certainty within a few days at least."

AMERICANS RESCUED.

Manila, Oct. 15.—Captain Devereaux Shields, who, with 51 men of Company F, Twenty-ninth regiment, United States volunteer infantry, was captured by the insurgents last month in the island of Marinduque, was recovered by the American rescue force with all the members of his party.

DATA ON RATE OF WAGES.

Figures by Wright Show Increase Past Two Years.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, has issued a bulletin, giving a summary of data in a previous publication on "Trusts and Industrial Combinations," showing the rate of wages in various occupations for a period extending back in most cases from the present year to 1891. The data was secured directly from the payrolls of establishments in all sections of the country. The information contained pertains to 148 establishments, representing 26 industries and 192 occupations. Those items for which data for the whole period were not given were excluded from consideration in the summary. All the data included, except those for mining, relate to manufacturing industries, the data relative to steam railroads and street railways having been excluded from the summary. The bulletin says that while the data from which the table of wages was prepared do not afford the basis for a strictly scientific calculation of relative wages, a careful examination of the figures leads to the belief that they are fairly representative and undoubtedly approximate very closely the actual conditions for the whole country. The summary shows as follows the average wages for 1891 being taken as a basis and representing 100

LAWYER PATRICK REFUSED.

Futile Demand on Him For the Rice Will He Claims to Have.

New York Oct. 15.—Wm. M. Rice, Jr., nephew of the late millionaire, visited the tombs and demanded of Attorney Patrick that he produce the original so-called second will. The attorney refused. The young man who was accompanied by a representative from Captain Baker's law firm, then demanded that Patrick show him the assignment which gives the latter absolute control of the Rice millions and makes the first will invalid.

"I will not show it," said Patrick. Thus the bitter contest for the millions is begun. It will be 42 days before the courts can be asked to take up the tangled matter of the two wills and the assignment purported to have been given Patrick as the Rice heirs living outside of the state must be served with notice by publication.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Identity Established of Victims of the Grade Crossing Accident Near New Castle, Pa.

New Castle, Oct. 15.—It was learned that three persons were killed in the grade crossing accident at Robinsons Crossing, near here, in which the Pittsburg and Lake Erie flyer demolished a two-seated phaeton containing four persons. The dead are John Korbie and his daughters, Ellen, aged 10, and Annie, aged 8. The surviving victim is Oscar Kaspi, 30 years old, who, in addition to being badly cut and bruised from head to foot, has four broken ribs and a broken cheek bone. He may recover. At the hospital here yesterday he said that Korbie, who was a prosperous Finnish farmer, had driven to a store to pay a debt and was on his way home when the accident occurred. None of the occupants of the buggy heard the train approaching. Korbie was 35 years old, and had a wife and three children in addition to those killed.

CHAIRMAN JONES

And His Trust Controlling Round Cotton Bales.

PROVISIONS OF THE TEXAS LAW

Against Trusts, Under Which Suit Has Been Brought at Waco to Compel This Trust to Cease Doing Business in the Lone Star State.

Senator Jones of Arkansas, Democratic campaign chairman, will not soon hear the last of his connection with a trust, in partnership with Searles of the sugar trust. The St. Louis Republic, the Missouri Bryan organ, feels so much concern over "the American Cotton company's monopoly, which has been the subject of much condemnation by Republican speakers, because Senator Jones, a Democrat, is connected with it, that it takes pains to explain that this "is based on the patent of an invention." The Republic says that when the patent expires, all manufacturers can then use the invention, but adds that "until that time it is properly secured to the inventor."

Evidently, the Republic does not keep posted upon the drift of discussion upon this very question of Jones and his round cotton bale trust in the banner Democratic state of Texas, although that is within the Republic's own territory. This concern is looked upon in Texas as one of the most gigantic and far-reaching of all the trusts. "It has almost driven the square bale cotton out of business, and nothing can keep it from monopolizing the entire traffic very soon, with a tremendous tax upon the entire cotton producing and handling trade," except the rigid enforcement of the Texas anti-trust law.

This corporation was the subject of several attacks during the last session of the Texas legislature, and well known Democratic members said some very harsh things about the Hon. James K. Jones, president of the corporation, who is also chairman of the Democratic national committee. It was at first intended to pass a law especially prohibiting the company from doing business in Texas, and such a bill was introduced in the house by Representative Cole, but it was deemed that it would be class legislation, and that the company's exclusion from the state should be obtained through the new anti-trust law.

In order, however, to make sure of reaching that end in this new law a special provision was inserted and adopted, designed expressly to meet the very point now raised by Jones' defenders—the protection of the patent law—for it reads:

"Each corporation, co-partnership, firm or individual who may be the owner or lessee of a patent to any machinery intended, used or designed for manufacturing any raw materials or preparing the same for market by any wrapping, baling or other process, who shall lease, rent or operate the same in their own name and refuse or fail to put the same on the market for sale, shall be adjudged a monopoly, and be subject to all the pains and penalties provided in this act."

This special provision hits the cotton bale trust squarely between the eyes, for it has refused to sell any of its machines, operating them only under lease or through its own agents, the very offense provided against in the Texas act.

The law also provides that some officer of every corporation doing business in Texas shall make oath that it is not a trust, nor in any way operated in violation of the anti-trust law. A copy of this blank affidavit was sent to James K. Jones, president, and it has been returned properly sworn to, the officer making the necessary oath being George W. Oakley, secretary, of New York city.

How such an oath could be made as to Texas, in view of the explicit provision of the Texas statute, just quoted, will puzzle plain people, but President and Chairman Jones, through his secretary, seems to have strained his conscience with perfect ease. It is not surprising, however, to learn that, notwithstanding this affidavit, the foregoing and other provisions of the anti-trust law are being violated by this corporation in Texas, and these charges may result in indictments being returned against the alleged guilty officers of the corporation by the grand juries of several of the judicial districts of the state within the next few weeks.

Is it not a curious conclusion to a campaign based upon a pretended attack upon trusts, by the party that never did anything in congress against the trusts, and that has refused to vote for the only practical way to get at the unlawful combinations, that its national committee chairman will be brought into court in the banner state of the same party, for violation of the laws in that state against trusts, as president of an unlawful monopoly? Evidently, the people of Texas, judging from this law, think with Bryan that there is "no trust but a bad trust," except that a cotton bale trust is worst of all.

FAVOR AMERICAN RULE.

Storer States Catholic Church's Attitude Favored Philippines, After Interviewing Pope.

Geneva, Oct. 15.—Mr. Bellamy Storer, United States minister to Spain, in the course of a conversation here regarding his recent interview with the pope, said:

"Pope Leo appeared to be in much better health than when I saw him two years ago. He has lost none of the interest he has had from the first in matters relating to the church of Rome.

"Since Archbishop Ireland's visit it is clearly understood there that the best interests of the Roman Catholic church demand American rule in the Philippines. The United States and the Catholic church have the same aims there and hope to work together for order and peace."

Mr. Storer asserted that the Philippines had made three attempts to open negotiations with the vatican, all of which were refused. The pope seems full of life, Mr. Storer says.

WANAMAKER SPOKE.

Addressed Y. M. C. A. Railroad Convention—Hour of Prayer—Smith's Appeal to Accept Christ.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The delegates to the annual conference of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. began the observance of the Sabbath day by meeting in the auditorium of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. building about 9 a. m. and spending a quiet hour in a short service of prayer and song. Thence they scattered about the different churches of the city, at which many of the delegates took part in the exercises.

In the afternoon a general mass meeting of men was held in the auditorium, at which interest was aroused by the impassioned exhortation of Frederick B. Smith, of Chicago, which was aimed at those who had not yet openly declared their belief in the religion of Christ.

At the evening session the convention hall was packed, even the aisles being filled with chairs, and many persons standing. There was prayer and music. Ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker was among those who spoke. He delivered a felicitous address, which met with warm responses from the assembly.

CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Some Delegates Filled Pulpits—Pittsburg After Next Convention.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 15.—Delegates to the national convention of the missionary societies of the Christian church filled the pulpits of the numerous churches Sunday or attended prayer and song services in different parts of the city.

The sessions of the American Christian Missionary society will be resumed today the annual address of President W. K. Homan being the first business on the program. Buffalo, Pittsburg, Minneapolis and Los Angeles are making a fight for the next annual convention.

In two months talking Mr. Bryan has not yet given so much as a single word in support of the Democratic platform of a protectorate which he has so fondly adopted, to show the least authority for it in the constitution, laws or the supreme court decisions; nor has any other Democratic speaker, nor any Democratic paper. It is an entire innovation upon all American precedent, and, as such, the very essence and spirit of imperialism.

WAR WILL END

WITH THE ELECTION OF M'KINLEY TO THE PRESIDENCY.

Recently Captured Filipino Documents Prove This—Sandico's Letter to a Rebel Officer Makes This Statement With Absolute Frankness.

In the latest batch of insurgent documents captured in Luzon and forwarded to the war department by General MacArthur, are letters from agents for the Filipino junta at Hongkong, which express their views with great freedom. One of these is from Theo Sandico to Lieutenant Colonel Casimiro Tinio of the insurgent army, in which the writer says in part:

"If the re-election of Mr. McKinley be accomplished and the revolution in China be wiped out, and the war in the Transvaal take no new complications, then will I be the first to accept the peace that I believe to be necessary, though it be at the cost of acknowledging the sovereignty of the United States, since I consider that our forces are now impotent to defend our sacred and legitimate rights."

General MacArthur, in transmitting these papers, says that "possibly Sandico is as close to Aguinaldo as any of the leaders who continue in open hostility."

A letter from Regio, written from Hongkong to Sandico, discusses the Philadelphia anti-imperialist convention, and expresses the view that the alleged victories obtained by the Filipinos exercise great influence "on the very impressionable minds of the American people." He concludes:

"This impression is and will be one of the determined causes of our triumph, which triumph will come soon if we but resist a little more, now that but little is lacking to change the announced elections, as with the downfall of McKinley comes the ascendance of the starred banner over our soil."

There is no doubt but that Sandico, in this confidential letter, expressed not only his own feeling but that of the Filipino leaders in general. If Bryan be defeated, the end of the insurrection will be at once in sight. They will yield obedience to the lawful authority of the United States and the Philippine war will be over. There will then be no difficulty in extending our rule to the small area of these islands which is yet disturbed, and by the time McKinley's second term is over there will be a man in the United States but will be glad that we have retained the archipelago and extended the blessings of freedom and civilization under the American flag to the isles of the sea.

THE WAGE EARNERS.

Savings Bank Figures Show Their Prosperous Condition.

Mr. Bryan rashly takes the ground that the wage-earners of the United States have not benefited by the prosperity of the past four years. His theory is that they have had to pay more for what they have bought, and that this has more than covered the increased wages which they they received. Mr. Bryan, as usual, is talking theoretically, without due reference to facts. The figures refute his theory.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1896, the wages paid in the United States amounted to $2,605,750,183. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, the total was $3,125,750,000. The increase over 1896 is $520,000,000. Now, if the wage-earners have been compelled to spend all their increased earnings on the increased cost of living, the fact would be shown, and it would appear in the item of savings bank deposits. The fact that the bread winners earned less than they spent was shown clearly by the savings bank deposits of 1894, which decreased more than $37,000,000 for that year.

But from 1895 to 1899 the savings bank deposits of the wage earners increased by more than $420,000,000. The reports for the fiscal year ended June 30 last show that the ratio of gain has been more than retained, so that the savings bank deposits today are not less than $2,500,000,000. Now, please note the following interesting table of comparisons:

Wage-earners, 1900	7,500,000
Wage payments, 1900	$3,125,750,000

Savings bank depositors, 1900	6,000,000
Savings bank deposits, 1900	$2,500,000,000
Wage-earners, 1896	5,300,000
Wage earnings, 1896	$2,605,750,000
Savings bank depositors, 1896	5,065,494
Savings bank deposits, 1896	$1,907,156,277

These figures, which are official, show that Mr. Bryan's rag-time theory has no basis of fact. The increased cost of living, of which he prates, is largely a myth. The increase in wages is a solid fact, and is reflected in the increased deposits in the savings banks by the workmen of the United States.

OLEO CASES TO SUPREME COURT.

Over 600 Suits In Allegheny County Will Be Affected by a Decision.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—The fight over the oleomargarine act of 1895 is to be renewed in the supreme court of Pennsylvania and over 600 cases of a civil and criminal nature now pending in the courts of Allegheny county are depending upon the result. Attorney S. R. Huss, chief counsel for many of the oleomargarine dealers, served notice on J. F. Burke, counsel for the department of agriculture, that a special allowance had been obtained from the supreme court granting Owen McCann the right to take an appeal from the recent decision of the superior court. In its opinion the superior court declared substantially that the law was constitutional, and that the sale of colored oleomargarine, regardless of how the color was produced, whether by the addition of a foreign substance or by the mixture of natural ingredients, is unlawful. Similar decisions were rendered in cases appealed from Erie and Philadelphia counties.

The appeal to the supreme court will call for a review of all the legal questions raised touching the constitutionality of the law of 1895, and it is understood that some of the best legal talent in the city, including D. T. Watson and others, will be employed in the argument. The final decree will affect fully 600 other cases now pending. Mr. Burke accepted service of the notice of appeal, informed the department at Harrisburg of what had been done and is awaiting instructions.

ROOSEVELT HAD QUIET SUNDAY.

His Car Sidetracked In the Country. Guest of A. J. Alexander.

Spring Station, Ky., Oct. 15.—Here about 18 miles from Lexington, Governor Roosevelt's special train rested on a Louisville and Nashville sidetrack Sunday. The candidate for vice president, accompanied by Leslie Combs, chairman of the Republican state central committee; Mrs. Combs, Major Hersey, of Rough Rider fame, and Colonel Curtis Guidd, Jr., spent the day at the residence of A. J. Alexander, situated in the center of a farm comprising 3,300 acres. Before leaving Louisville word was given out that the train would proceed at once to Lexington, but a secret order directed that it stop over Sunday in the country, to enable the governor to recover from the fatigue caused by his unusually hard work of the last few days.

The rest brought about the desired physical brightening. The governor's voice has almost entirely lost its huskiness, and he says he feels as well as on the first day of the campaign. Early today the special left for Lexington.

MAY SOON ARREST FIREBUGS.

Attempt to Destroy a Pittsburg Hotel. One Man In Custody.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—Evidence concerning the plot to burn the Hotel Arlington Saturday night is accumulating fast in the hands of Fire Marshal William D. McGill. He believes it probable that those responsible for the crime will be arrested shortly.

David Adams was taken into custody Sunday morning by Detective Frank Lee at 1509 Sheffield street, Allegheny, where he had been living, and taken to the Allegheny police station. On the way to the station house he was told by Detective Lee that he was wanted in connection with the hotel fire. Adams disclaimed any knowledge of it, and said that he had not been in the building in a year.

Our First Pianos.

The first pianos known in America were imported from London in 1784 by John Jacob Astor, but as they could not stand the rigors of this climate they soon became ruined. This fact led to the attempt to build pianos in this country, and in the early part of the nineteenth century pianos made their appearance.

AN INCREASE OF FIFTY PER CENT

Shown In Deposits In the State Banks During the Past Four Years.

IT IS A WONDERFUL INCREASE

The State Board of Equalization Completes Its Work and Gives Out Figures.

TELLS A STORY OF PROSPERITY

The state board of equalization of bank stocks has completed its work for this year, and the result was made public last week. It shows a wonderful increase in deposits, surplus and undivided profits of the banks, both state and national, of Ohio, and tells the story of the country's prosperity in figures that are more eloquent than words.

There has been an increase in the number of national banks of six; in the capital stock, $394,715, and in the surplus and undivided profits, $2,674,689.

The total increase in the working capital of the national banks is $3,069,404.

The total of the capital and earnings of the banks is $62,128,039.

The board placed the value of the national banks at 37,638,230 for taxation, an increase of $2,200,006.

The state banks made an equally good showing. The increase in number was 16; in capital stock, $1,925,982, and in surplus and undivided profits, $654,058, making a total increase in the working capital of $2,579,840.

The total of the capital and earnings of these banks is $18,603,494.

The value for taxation as returned by the board is $11,042,361, an increase of $1,536,760.

The board makes no record of deposits, but Bank Clerk Taylor of the office of the auditor of state has compiled a table which shows the increase in the past four years. The figures are for the same days in May of 1896 and May, 1900:

The total deposits in the state banks in 1896 were $62,732,002 37; on the same day this year, $123,986,452 40, an increase of $61,263,450 09.

The deposits in the national banks in 1896 were $96,450,353 92, and on the same day in 1900, $160,615,611 88, making an increase of $64,065,257 96.

The total deposits in all the banks of Ohio in May of this year were $284,502,064 34, an increase of $125,328,708 05.

It is in the state banks that the people of small means deposit their savings, and in the past four years these institutions show an increase in deposits of 50 per cent.

HIS FAREWELL.

Rev. B. M. Carson Preached His Farewell Sermon to His Congregation Last Night.

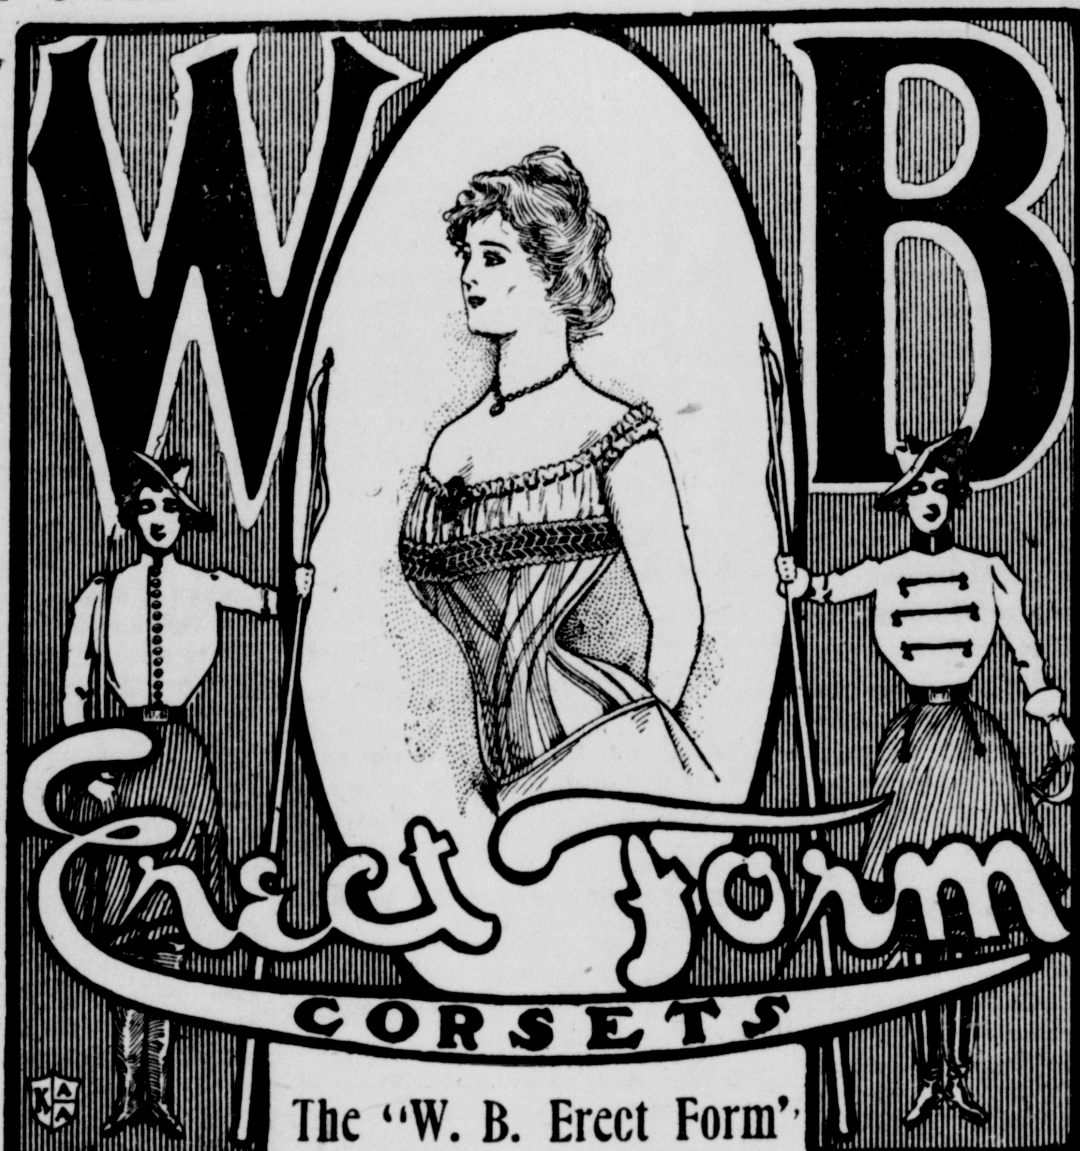

Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor of the African M. E. church, last evening preached his farewell sermon in this city and will leave Wednesday for his new charge at Urbana, Ohio. He took his text from Deuteronomy, "Keep, therefore, the words of this covenant, and do them that ye may prosper in all that ye do."

Rev. Carson leaves the city with the deepest regret and thanks the people of this city for the Christian treatment he has received at their hands.

Star Bargain Store.

A SALE OF CORSETS AND UNDERWEAR.

The "W. B. Erect Form"

Corset gives a long, low and full effect from shoulder to bust. It is the only correct model for the new straight-front styles in costumes. It is a health corset. It is a surpassingly beautiful corset. It throws the shoulders back into a fine military poise. It inflicts no strain upon bust or abdomen and thus does away with those faults of corset construction which often leads to indigestion, short-breathing and sometimes even more serious troubles. The "Erect Form" does not strain the figure—all the pressure of lacing is upon the hips and back muscles which are most capable of sustaining it.

We carry it in drab and white and the price is only $1. We also carry the new W. B. real short waist corset, which is the best short corset in the market, and its price is $1. W. B. medium waist and W. B. high bust corsets for 98c.

We carry the best and largest line of corsets in the city, and our sales in that department is increasing all the time.

We have the celebrated W. B. Corsets in all the styles mentioned above. R. & G. corsets in short, medium and long waist. The famous Kabo corsets, high bust, short hip in high and low bust. Dr. Balls, a very easy corset. Dr. Warner's health. Ferris and Jackson waist. In popular priced corsets we carry more than any two stores in town combined.

High bust corsets with shoulder straps, worth 75c, for 49c.

Medium waist, fancy trimmed, and real short waist corsets, trimmed in lace, 75c values, our price 50c.

Good corsets, 50c values, for 35c, and a fair corset for 25c.
